

Fighting Men Big U. S. Need, Senator Says

Sentiment Grows For Universal Training

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Fighting manpower was listed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) today as America's first probable shortage in mobilizing for the future.

Tydings, chairman of the Senate armed services committee, at the same time questioned proposals for enlisting Japanese volunteers or re-arming Western Germans.

Ground Forces Essential
"I think our biggest need in the immediate future will be trained manpower," Tydings told a reporter. "We will need more ground fighting forces."

Tydings said he thought Congress would give quick approval to President Truman's requests for about $15,000,000 additional for defense spending and foreign military arms aid. It was asked since U. S. forces went into Korea to halt Communist aggression there.

"Unless there are unexpected developments outside of Korea, I think we will have plenty of funds and equipment in the near future," Tydings continued. "The squeeze, if any, will be on fighting manpower."

A reporter suggested that these comments might indicate a new drive in Congress for the universal military training (UMT) programs asked several times by President Truman.

Squelched By MacArthur
Tydings said he was not tub-thumping for UMT but as usual would present any recommendations from the defense department and army, navy or air force to the Senate and his committee.

He said a bill by Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.), proposing that U. S. armed forces open their ranks to voluntary Japanese enlistments, had been sent to the defense department for its recommendations.

General Douglas MacArthur pretty well squelched the idea yesterday. He termed the proposal "of doubtful feasibility" in a cable to Magnuson.

The general pointed out that before such a move, peace treaties should be concluded with Japan. Lacking these it remains under international control.

Taft Proposes Big Tax Boost

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed today a $13,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000 a year increase in taxes, to put the Korean war and America's rearmament program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This would boost the annual tax load to about $50,000,000,000, far above the previous $44,200,000,000 record top in 1945, the last year of World War II. The treasury has estimated tax collections this year, under present rates, at $36,200,000,000.

Taft described President Truman's $5,000,000,000 tax-cutting measure, now under consideration by the Senate finance committee, as "merely a stop gap," with heavier taxes to come later.

In suggesting his pay-as-you-go plan, Taft emphasized that not near all the increased tax collections would be by boosting rates. He said a large part of the increase will come from a broad expansion of the economy in the rearmament program.

Worthy Unworthy

DETROIT — (AP)—Worthy Peoples, 35, put up a labor car as collateral in buying 300 war medals on credit. It turned out, however, that Peoples' security had been rented. He was sentenced in recorder's court yesterday to two to five years for larceny.

Navy To Build Atomic U-Boat

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
WASHINGTON — (AP)—The navy now has authority to build this country's first atomic-powered submarine.

Also, Rep. Robeson (D-Va.) told a reporter that he believes work will be resumed soon on the 65,000-ton supercarrier United States. And word came out of a special House Armed Services "expediting" subcommittee that overtime work or extra shifts may be ordered to rush completion of the nation's $85,000,000 radar warning system.

Authority for the atomic submarine was included in a $350,000,000 navy shipbuilding bill signed yesterday by President Truman.

The act also authorizes the building of radically new small combat craft, some of them for underwater operations, as well as the conversion of a cruiser into a guided missile vessel. All told the bill calls for construction, modernization or conversion of 112 vessels of different types.

The objective is to strengthen the navy's anti-submarine striking power, and improve protection of harbors and coastline. Robeson did not elaborate on his statement that he expects work to be resumed at Newport News, Va., on the United States. However, the big ship for which Congress authorized $189,000,000, has been generally cited in naval circles as a potentially valuable arm for defense against possible submarine attacks on American shipping.

Precautions Against Sabotage Urged On Great Lakes Vessels

DETROIT — (AP)—AFL Maritime Union urged the government today to screen crews on great lakes ships as a precaution against sabotage. They warned it would be an easy matter to knock out the Sault Ste. Marie locks with a time bomb.

Recommendations to safeguard the vital lakes shipping route were adopted at a meeting here yesterday sponsored by the AFL maritime trades department of the lakes region. American regional heads and Canadian representatives attended.

The unionists recommended: (1) Setting up a screening committee manned by representatives of management, the unions and naval intelligence, and (2) abandonment of the World War II executive order permitting Canadian ships to haul between United States ports.

Canadian Crews Dangerous
Those attending the meeting represented 6,000 American and 12,000 Canadian sailors on the lakes.

Fred Farnen, secretary-treasurer of the Seafarers International Union, said:

"We have done a pretty good job cleaning the Communists out of the American AFL unions. But the government will have to move quickly to tighten the screen on Canadian crews."

Union representatives declared the executive order permitting Canadian ships to load ore at an American steel mill should be cancelled.

Russ Smith, great lakes organizational director of the Teamsters Union, said: "It's a laugh. The big steel mills are surrounded with high steel fences, topped with barbed wire and in addition

French Want More Backing Of U. S. Troops

Attack By Russians Is European Worries

By PRESTON GROVER
PARIS — (AP)—A high French official said today that six American and six British divisions stationed in Germany would keep a Russian attack away from western Europe for at least a year, and perhaps permanently.

In that year, he said, Europe could go a long way toward establishing its own adequate defense force—providing all-out American aid was given.

May Come Too Late

The official, who asked that his name be withheld, said the actual presence of more American troops would remove one great European fear—the belief that Russian attack would result in quick occupation of all of Europe before America came to the rescue.

The presence of American soldiers, he continued, would convince the Russians even more than U. S. action in Korea that aggression in Europe would mean immediate war with the United States.

Quick American assistance in Korea has helped to convince the French the United States would come quickly to Europe's rescue in the case of a Russian attack.

But the conviction is not deep-rooted. The French remember that American aid came in the first World War only after France was nearly beaten, and in the second war only after the country had been thoroughly beaten and long occupied.

New Bazooka Pushed
What France wants this time is cash in advance—in the form of American troops already on the spot. Evidently this was emphasized at the recent meeting of Atlantic pact deputies in London.

In return for this commitment of American troops to European soil, France evidently would accept an American commander over all forces in Germany. These probably would include many of the 5 new divisions France has agreed to form. If an attack comes, this country wants the initial major blow to come between the Elbe and the Rhine, not between the Rhine and the Seine.

As an immediate defense measure, France wants to go ahead with development of its light tank and its new bazooka. The French believe both are better than American weapons of a like type. They want American money to start production in French factories.

Scotland Yard Hunts Atomic Secrets Lost By American Scientist

LONDON — (AP)—Scotland yard hunted today a large brown suitcase containing atomic secrets which reportedly was stolen from an American scientist aboard a train yesterday.

Scotland yard was mum, other than to say it was looking for the suitcase. The British press said the suitcase contained a briefcase which was filled with atomic information.

The owner of the case was variously reported to be an American named Frank Greenleaf, F. W. Greenleafs and Frank Miller Greenleafs.

"We've never heard of him," said a spokesman at the American embassy.

The suitcase was taken from a first class compartment on the London to Blackpool train. The owner stepped out of the compartment for a few minutes. When he returned, it was gone.

Pea-Soup Fog Ties Up Ships At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP)—A pea-soup fog tied up shipping along the St. Marys river for more than 8 hours today.

The fog began lifting around 9:30 a. m., permitting more than 25 vessels tied up on either side of the Soo locks to get underway again.

Approximately 15 radar equipped vessels were able to negotiate the river and locks in the fog last night, and the international ferry between Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., didn't miss a trip.

The ferry followed a siren on the Canadian side in crossing the mile stretch of water separating the two towns. Coming back it followed the sound of a siren on the U. S. side.

Saved By Penny

DETROIT — (AP)—Theodore Gordon appeared before Recorder's Judge Charles W. Jones on a loitering charge. The judge told him: "If you haven't got a penny, you are loitering." Gordon dug into his pockets and came up with one penny.

"Case dismissed," the judge said.

Killer Of Trio Eludes Posse

EMINENCE, Mo. — (AP)—A crack-shot armed desperado, accused of killing three persons, eluded a posse in rugged southern Missouri timberlands today for the second straight day.

More than 100 men pursued 39-year-old William Harris, an expert marksman. Bloodhounds were being used in the chase.

Harris fled into the hills of the Ozarks after a triple slaying in a farmhouse near this southern Missouri town.

He is accused of killing his own daughter, four-year-old Barbara Harris; Richard Fansler, 63, a farmer, and Fansler's son, Homer L. Fansler.

The farmer's wife, Rosa, 60, and his brother-in-law, Elmer Nichols, 42, were wounded. It was believed the killing of Harris' daughter during the melee was accidental.

A motive for the slayings has not been established.

The search included an area known as "Irish Wilderness". Deep paths and timber trails are the only routes through the area.

Taylor Trails In Idaho Vote

BOISE, Idaho — (AP)—Former Senator D. Worth Clark moved into a narrow lead today in his close race with Senator Glen H. Taylor. The two battled for the Democratic nomination to a six-year term as United States senator from Idaho.

Mounting returns from yesterday's primary election gave Clark a margin of around 1,400 votes. Precincts unreported generally were small and scattered.

With returns in from 675 of the state's 839 precincts Clark had 23,882 votes to 22,427 for Taylor. Rep. Compton I. White, Idaho's first district congressman, trailed with 13,041.

The nation watched the outcome of the primary as an indication of the state's reaction to Taylor—a guitar strumming former cowboy singer who ran for vice president on Henry Wallace's Progressive party ticket in 1948.

Clark accused Taylor of associating with Communist front organizations—and Taylor denied it during the campaign.

Taylor also is a vigorous supporter of the proposed Columbia Valley authority, which is a top issue in the Pacific Northwest and power and irrigation—conscious Idaho.

Henry Wallace Quits Progressive Party In Split Over War

NEW YORK — (AP)—Henry Wallace resigned from the Progressive party last night because it condemns the American stand in Korea.

The action completed a split that began three weeks ago between Wallace and the party that organized to run him for president in 1948.

Three weeks ago, Wallace made public his own support for the U. S. and U. N. actions in Korea, while the party's national committee issued a statement opposing the American action.

Strategy Mapped To Break Russian Filibuster In UN

By A. I. GOLDBERG

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — United Nations security council members mapped strategy today to break Russian President Jakob A. Malik's one-man stranglehold, and filibuster which has stopped the council in its tracks.

The Russians were not invited to the informal conferences which occupied most other delegations. The council recessed yesterday until Thursday afternoon after getting nowhere in one of the most bitter, heated sessions since Malik took over the presidency Aug. 1.

Taking the floor when he wished as Soviet delegate, Malik threw another resolution into the council, this one seeking to condemn the U. S. Air Force for bombings in North Korea. He did this after making new charges that the U. S. is the aggressor in Korea, dictating the role the U. N. is playing.

Anti-Subversive Bills Start Political Race

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Democrats and Republicans maneuvered today to get their own versions of anti-Communist and anti-subversive bills before the Senate. Each side charged the other with playing politics.

In the House two committees were in a race to get to the floor first with anti-Communist legislation.

Armed with an appeal by President Truman for authority to register foreign trained spies and saboteurs, Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) asked the Democratic policy committee (noon, EST) to study the possibility of combining several security bills into a Democratic-backed single package measure. Mr. Truman made his request yesterday in a 3,500 word message to Congress.

Led by Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Mundt of South Dakota, who have a bill of their own, Republicans talked over parliamentary plans to force action on a Communist registration bill at the president called "unnecessary, ineffective and dangerous."

Chairman Celler (D-NY), of the House Judiciary committee, told reporters he will begin work immediately to put the president's ideas into legislative form and hopes to begin public hearings next week. But the House un-American activities committee already has held extensive hearings on proposals to curb Communism. Chairman Wood (D-

Communists Beaten Back By Americans In Southern Sector

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO, THURSDAY — (AP)—North Koreans today retreated before U. S. onslaughts on the southern and western fronts and pilots said the enemy was preparing to flee his southern base at Chinju.

U. S. patrols were only seven miles east of that bomb-wrecked city 55 miles west of the main supply port of Pusan. Chinju is the apparent objective of a U. S. counteroffensive on the south coast.

General MacArthur's war summary said American forces farther south had run into heavy opposition in their attempt to trap North Korean troops by linking up with the main body east of Chinju.

Gains averaging about three miles were reported along the southern front.

Bridgehead Wiped Out
The summary, covering fighting of the past 24 hours, said two enemy battalions—possibly 1,600 men—supported by tanks were "eliminated" from one bridgehead on the Nakdong river.

But the enemy still was trying to breach the river line, which protects Taegu, front line city and refugee South Korean capital 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

South Koreans were forced to make a two-mile withdrawal at unspecified points on the North sector, headquarters reported.

North Koreans also were building up their forces in the Yongdok center, on the east coast end of the front.

Enemy In Trap
In combat ranging from bayonet attacks to tank-busting, American doughboys forced the Reds to retreat in the deep south.

South Koreans slammed invaders back across the Nakdong river on the central front.

American attacks in the south picked up momentum and reeled the Reds backward toward ruined Chinju, Communist base.

The Fifth regimental combat team was only seven miles from a link-up with the 35th regimental combat team.

The juncture may trap many Red troops. The Americans had been bogged down for two days near Chindong. They jumped off before dawn Wednesday on the new attack, marines were rolling ahead with them.

News Cheering
Defenders of the Nakdong river line to the north shoved the Reds out of two river crossing bridgeheads. The U. S. 24th division herded others into an open spot from the hills and poured artillery shells into them.

Serious threats to the important Taegu area on the central front were eased by the American and South Korean successes. The cheering news was given in a U. S. 8th army communique issued at 6:30 p. m. (3:30 a. m. EST) Wednesday.

The close fighting took place in the south. U. S. soldiers, clashing hands before charging with fixed bayonets, killed 40 North Koreans in a sharp engagement.

Chased Into Hills
The communique said the Reds apparently were withdrawing toward Chinju. The U. S. 35th regimental combat team put patrols to within seven miles of the burned-out city.

State Trooper Spread Rapped

LANSING — (AP)—Governor Williams' recommendations for more state police sub-stations today had received a probably unwelcome slap in the face.

The second task force to report to the legislative committee on government reorganization warned that creating more sub-stations may "lead to too great dispersal of effective forces."

As part of his project to step up civilian defense, the governor had urged the establishment of 10 to 12 new state police sub-stations.

In releasing the report, the committee emphasized it had not been asked to by the committee of citizens' advisory committee.

The report was prepared under the leadership of Bruce Smith, acting director of the institute for public administration, New York, and nationally known police authority.

The task force also recommended that the governor be given the authority to remove the state police commissioner. The power is now vested in the state supreme court.

It was also recommended that fire inspection duties of the state police be transferred to the commissioner of labor and that the state safety commission be absorbed into the state police.

Women Get Big Role In Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Bolton (R-Ohio) said that "a very effective" civilian defense program is "nearly ready for announcement" by the National Security Resources board.

Women will have an important role, she added.

Mrs. Bolton said the program would provide training for local citizens groups in such things as what to do in event of atom bomb attacks. This work will be directed by experts who witnessed bombing raids in London during World War II and studied the results of atom bomb attacks on Japan.

She said local leaders would be wise to start at once listing both men and women available for civilian defense tasks.

State Holds Up Paychecks

Gov. Williams Blames Allotment Shortage

LANSING — (AP) — Pay checks for employees of seven state agencies, due Thursday, will be held up at least one day because of an allotment shortage, Governor Williams reported today.

He said he had called a special meeting of the administrative board for Thursday to rectify the shortage.

Affected are employees of the Western Michigan college of education, the employment institution for the blind, the boys vocational school at Lansing, the Marquette branch prison, southern Michigan prison at Jackson, the labor mediation board and the Michigan board of pharmacy.

The governor explained that under a new procedure instituted by the Republican legislature, the board must certify allotments every month. Allotments for the seven agency payrolls turned out to be short amounts ranging from $14 to $10,000 for the last two weeks in August. Under the new policy the situation can only be rectified by the board which would not have met normally until August 15.

The governor said the delay was "the inevitable aftermath of the unwarranted attempts to put detailed administrative work of the state government in the hands of an unwieldy board."

The legislature turned the allotment procedure over to the Republican-dominated administrative board in an effort to protect reduced appropriations against over spending by the Democratic-controlled department of administration.

Long Munising Strike Settled

Employees Get Raise, Two-Year Contract

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Union representatives and officials of the Munising Wood Products company came to terms late yesterday, ending the longest strike in Marquette's labor history.

The 65-day walkout, which left 466 employees jobless at the company's plants in Marquette and Munising, began June 5 and was terminated as of last midnight.

M. W. Nunemaker, general manager of the company, today said workers will be recalled "as fast as we can get into production." Some employees were called back to their jobs today and others will be recalled as soon as work is available, Nunemaker said.

He would not estimate when full production would be resumed, stating so many orders have been cancelled that resumption of production depends largely upon the company's customers.

Terms of the settlement call for a two-year contract granting workers a four-cent-an-hour "across-the-board" wage increase for the first year plus an additional four-cent boost at the beginning of the second year. The union originally sought a blanket 10-cent increase.

Work In Woods To Be Resumed

Bay de Noquet Co. Will Start Aug. 21

NAHMA, Mich. — Woods operations of the Bay de Noquet Lumber company will be resumed in the Grand Marais area about Aug. 21, John Landon, general manager, announced today.

The company will operate one camp of its own, and jobbers will have two others. Logs are trucked from Grand Marais to the sawmill at Nahma.

The sawmill has been running continuously, producing lumber at the rate of about 65,000 feet per day. Extensive woods operations were carried on last winter, and by late January about 8,000,000 feet of logs were decked up in the mill yard here.

About 250 men are employed at the sawmill, planing mill and yards of the Bay de Noquet Lumber company in Nahma. When woods operations are resumed late this month, about 150 will be added to the payroll.

Hawaiian Unionists Strike In Protest Of Bridges Jailing

HONOLULU — (AP) — A wave of quickie strikes protesting the jailing of Harry Bridges spread among Hawaii members of his CIO Longshore union today.

There were unofficial rumblings at union headquarters here that the walkouts would continue as long as Bridges remained behind bars.

About 4,500 of Bridges' union men have staged half-hour to 24-hour protest walkouts in the territory since Monday. The Australian-born Longshore leader's bond was revoked and he was jailed in San Francisco Saturday as "an agent dedicated to XXX the Communist program." He is appealing conviction of perjury, of having lied when he denied he was a Communist to gain citizenship in 1945.

Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union has about 25,000 members employed in sugar, pineapple, longshore and miscellaneous industries in Hawaii.

U. P. Fair Queen Going To Detroit

Will Receive Many Other Prizes

As in past coronation events, the winner of the Upper Peninsula state fair queen contest will receive a host of prizes, but topping the list will be an all-expense-paid plane trip to Detroit and participation there in the "Fairest of the Fair" contest.

The U. P. event will be conducted at the fair in Escanaba next Wednesday, August 16, climaxing with the coronation of the 1950 queen on a stage in front of the grandstand.

The winner will be flown to Detroit by Nationwide Airlines and will be the guest of the Michigan fair management while in the Motor City.

Claude E. Bishop, manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair Queens' contest, announced today that entries already have been received from Manistique, Ironwood, L'Anse, St. Ignace and Mackinac Island, Escanaba, and Chassell and that the final number of participants probably will approximate the 25 who competed for the queen title a year ago.

Col. John M. Bartella Given Permanent Rank

Col. John M. Bartella, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bartella, 516 South 9th Street, has been named a permanent colonel in the United States Air Force, following Senate approval of his nomination by the president. Bartella was one of 206 selected from among 468 officers who were eligible for consideration. He has held the temporary rank of colonel since August 1943.

Following his graduation from the United States Military Academy in 1936 and winning his wings in the Air Corps flying schools the following year, the then 2nd Lt. Bartella served two years with a pursuit squadron in the Philippine Islands. On his return to the States in 1940 he was stationed at various bases in California as a squadron commander in a fighter group, operations officer of the 4th Fighter Command, and executive officer of the San Francisco Fighter Wing.

He was promoted to temporary captain in 1940 and to temporary major two days before the start of World War II. In March of 1942 he was promoted to temporary lieutenant colonel followed by his nomination to temporary colonel the next year shortly before going overseas.

Col. Bartella served with a fighter wing in New Guinea and later was assigned as a member of Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, remaining with it during its move from Australia, through New Guinea and the Philippines to Japan. He was returned to the United States for hospitalization in November 1945 and since then has obtained his master's degree at Northwestern University and been stationed at Air Force Headquarters in Washington, where he is presently assigned in the transportation division.

Col. Bartella is married to the former Mildred Nelms of San Antonio, Texas, and is the father of two sons, Jack and Dick, aged 12 and 8. He is one of the youngest officers in the Air Force to hold the permanent rank of colonel.

Traffic Check At Straits Planned

Engineering Firm Engaged For Work

MACKINAC ISLAND — Hiring of the firm of Coverdale & Colpits, consulting engineers of New York City to make a traffic survey of the Straits of Mackinac has been announced by Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board of the Detroit Edison Co., and chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority.

They are the leading traffic engineers in the country, whose opinions are accepted in the financial world," Brown said. "They will make a survey of the straits traffic beginning with 1923 to appraise the future growth of traffic and the influence on faster traffic which a bridge would give. They are also to advise as to the necessary tolls."

The traffic engineers will work with the bridge engineers already hired.

Brown said the Bridge Authority intends to find out if a bridge over the straits is feasible from an engineering and economic standpoint — whether the cost can be met over the years.

"I have no doubt that every man on the commission wants a bridge built but we want to know the facts," he said. "We are approaching the problem from an objective standpoint."

Joe Louis Should Make His Comeback With Ease

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—If I am paid up in my dues as a reformed sports writer I suppose I will have to sit down and weep up a treatise on the fact that Joe Louis is going to un-retire himself to make a few bucks for Uncle Sam's tax beagles.

The piece would run about like this: say it ain't so, Joe. Leave us with your beautiful memory. Don't jeopardize your health. Don't cheapen your reputation. And so forth.

But I let the dues lapse a while back and so I cannot find much tragedy if Old Joe wants to melt a few pounds of left and clamber back in the ring to make a buck for himself. Nor can I bleed too freely for a man who made about four million dollars needing to make some more.

Taxes afflict us all, and Joe was taking down the big purses a long time before the war drove the taxes up. He had plenty of opportunity to live up a solid chunk of security. If his advisers stole him blind, that is sad but not unusual.

Fighting Never Dignified

Louis is a man of remarkable personal dignity, but fighting was never a very dignified business and even less dignified is the practice of appearing as a semi-freak with carnivals or barnstorming as a rattle referee. So I cannot see where much of the vaunted loss of dignity enters into the thing, even if Joe gets belted out in his comeback.

There again, he has been belted before, and by bums. Max Schmeling knocked him stiff. Tony Galento, a quintessential bum, hit him a left hook in the chops that rattled him like a marmosa gourd. I personally caught Joe in my lap one night in Washington, when Buddy Baer, a fifth-rate heavy with a windup that started in Havre de Grace, caught Joseph on the chin and propelled him through the ropes and into my reticent lap. Billy Conn whipped his ears off in the first Louis-Conn tangle, and lost the fight only because he got pot-valient and imagined himself a puncher. Even poor old Jim Braddock gave Joe a bit of a bad time for a while.

The only era I know firsthand in boxing is Louis' era, but I do believe he blossomed and reigned amongst a crop of the poorest heavyweight fighters of all time, with the exception of right now. Louis fattened on bums, defended his title against, largely, bums, got knocked out by a bum, and was cuffed around by third-raters. Even when he was mauled, he took little punishment, as middleweights and welters know punishment, and he never took enough to make him soggy in the head.

Altogether I weep not for the old Bomber. Even a comeback is less apt to degrade him than constant association with rascals.

Not Risking Health

I don't see how he can jeopardize his health much by a comeback, even in his middle thirties, because there is nothing around that can bat the cherry off a sundae in less than five strokes, and even then the cherry does not figure to dent very deep.

Louis has lost a lot of steam and his timing ain't what it used to be and it is tougher for him to get in condition. But his legs are sturdy and pretty sure, due to a vast amount of golf, and he never dissipated hard. He might have a rough time chasing an opponent, but he can still hit and anybody who comes at him is a nice price to leave the ring in a somnolent condition.

Three Cases Heard By Appeal Board

The Escanaba appeal board in meeting yesterday afternoon at city hall heard three applications for exceptions to the city zoning and attempt to wring a spot of moisture from them for poor old Joe, I reflect that poor old Joe has lived very well since 1935 and has estimated that he can pick up about $400,000 for his forthcoming appearance. This is reasonably sturdy coin for a has-been who is still sound in wind and unmarked in the face.

Donald Anderson of 1321, denied a permit to build a wood shed on the lot line, was refused an exception to the ordinance.

New Ludington Park Beach Will Not Be Utilized This Season

BECAUSE of the lateness of the season, it has been decided not to open the new beachhouse at Ludington Park this year. This decision may be somewhat disappointing to many, but it is a logical and sensible decision in view of the circumstances.

The bathing season in Escanaba is rapidly approaching the end of the summer. Next week is Fair week in Escanaba, which has annually been a poor week from the standpoint of attendance at the beach. And after Aug. 20, when the fair ends, the bathing weather here is extremely uncertain.

To move all of the equipment now located at the temporary beach at Sand Point and equip the new beach for use this summer is not justified. This is particularly true because the new diving raft planned for use at the new beach is not yet ready and also because so much landscaping work still remains to be done at the new beach site. Grass seeding at the beach will be done this fall and this part of the project can attain best results without the traffic that would result if the new beach were put into use this season. Lockers, too, are not yet available for the beachhouse.

By waiting until the 1951 season to formally open the new beach and beachhouse, patrons will be greeted with a fully equipped, completely modern, delightful beach, properly landscaped.

We have waited patiently many years to obtain a beach of which we can be proud. Now that we are able to visualize the result and are pleased with what we see, it is not too difficult to be content with a delay until the 1951 season to formally put the new facilities into use.

Uncle Sam Again Calls On George Bean

FOR the third time in three years, the federal government is seeking the services of George E. Bean, former Escanaba city manager.

Summer T. Pike, AEC chairman, has asked Grand Rapids to "loan" him to the commission as a consultant in planning self-government for the three "atomic cities" of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Los Alamos, N. M., and Richmond, Wash.

We are proud to say that Bean got his start in city manager work in Escanaba.

Grand Rapids will find out one thing about Bean—he's a straight shooter. He may make enemies but if he does it will be because he is straightforward and above board.

He lays his cards on the table for all to see, then goes ahead on what he thinks is right. But he's not the kind of guy who tries to pull tricks behind the backs of others.

George Bean is going ahead on the strength of his ability and character. It's refreshing in these days when so many in business and government try the double cross.

Leopold's Abdication Is Only Solution

BACK in the 1930's King Leopold III of Belgium was a popular figure not too far down the scale from the now Duke of Windsor. When Leopold's first wife, Queen Astrid, was killed in an automobile accident, sympathy was voiced everywhere.

World War II turned that sympathy to criticism, and for some, to hate. For on May 23, 1940, just 18 days after Hitler invaded France and the Low Countries, Leopold suddenly surrendered Belgium to the Nazis.

The British and the French were shocked and outraged. The Belgian flank of their armies was left dangerously exposed, hastening their defeat and the eventual evacuation at Dunkerque. The Allies claimed Leopold gave them no warning.

Until 1944 the Nazis held him prisoner in Belgium, but then they moved him inland to Germany. Little was really known of his circumstances then, but rumors circulated that the king was living well under his Nazi conquerors.

After the war he lived in exile while his country debated whether to return him to his throne. The Belgian parliament finally decided by a fairly close majority that Leopold should come back.

But his recent return to Brussels proved only that his bitter opponents had not given up the fight.

The Belgian Socialists, spearheading the opposition, made clear to Leopold and the government that civil war was certain unless the king got out. The country was deeply divided.

But Leopold is a man who wants to be king. Only under extreme pressure from friends, who posed the threat of revolution, did he finally yield and agree to abdicate.

Temporarily he has transferred his power to his 19-year-old son, Prince Baudoin, who will formally take over the throne on his 21st birthday in September, 1951.

Leopold's personal tragedy in this outcome is great. He defends his capitulation to Hitler on the ground that defeat was inevitable and he was determined to save lives.

The issue being so clearly disruptive of Belgian unity, Leopold's withdrawal is the only sane solution. Belgium, a small but indispensable member of the free western community of nations, can't afford internal strife at this moment in world history.

Leopold must leave to the judgment of careful World War II historians the question of the wisdom of his 1940 surrender to Hitler. It is now an old story that has no place amid the new troubles of 1950.

Free Advice

When a man is getting married, it's a time he should enjoy, but he quickly finds he's facing many problems which annoy. He must fill his house with furniture and learns its cost is high, and he's often given free advice on what he ought to buy. Soon he's very tired of friends who say: "I know your problem's tough—were I you, I'd buy less furniture but buy the better stuff."

Now he long since came to realize, when first he planned to wed, that the cost of furnishing his house was something he should dread. He discovered highest quality in sofas, beds and chairs, could exhaust a fellow's savings when for marriage he prepares. And he knew that he could only have some very modest things, on account of what he spent to give his bride a pair of rings.

So he cringes every time a friend would have it understood, that he ought to buy less furniture "but just be sure it's good." He'll be lucky if his house will have some furniture at all, whether good or bad or something to be hidden in the hall. And he wonders what his friends would say, on calling at his door, if he took their sage advice and had to seat them on the floor.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—This is the last column I shall write before taking a couple of weeks off, and naturally I should like to make it a good one. But I don't feel so good about the state of the world or the state of the nation, and I don't get much kick out of sitting back and Peglarizing.

However, here are some contrasts affecting our future which the American public ought to know about and which Congress will have a chance to rectify—if it wants to.

Contrast No. 1—Between 1,200 to 2,000 Chinese students are going to Moscow every month to become indoctrinated in the ways of the Soviet. Mao Tse-Tung, now the Communist ruler of China, spent a long time studying in Moscow, and they will follow in his footsteps. Twenty years ago the Russians planned their domination of China by setting up a special University of the Far East. The monthly trek of Chinese students across the Trans-Siberian Railroad shows Moscow is still looking far into the future.

In contrast, the U. S. A. used to bring possibly 1,200 Chinese students to this country a year, against what the Russians are bringing per month. Some of our Boxer Rebellion-educated Chinese went back to help run China, but for about ten years almost no Chinese students have come here. When they do come they are heckled and hounded with red tape, including a bond which says they are undesirable yellow-men who promise not to remain in the U. S. A.

Contrast No. 2—The Russians recently invited the publisher of three Indo-Chinese newspapers to Moscow, where they gave him a special parade of the Red army, let him interview Stalin, gave him the caviar-vodka-ballet treatment, and sent him back after having spent perhaps $50,000 on his entertainment. His newspapers promptly came out for Russia.

Meanwhile, in Washington we entertain such important Oriental visitors as the mayor of Tokyo and members of the Japanese parliament at cheaper hotels near the Union Station, where we allow only $10 a day to cover all meals, hotel room and everything else — all because a niggardly Congress has cut "the exchange of persons" budget to the bone.

These distinguished visitors are told that President Truman is too busy to see them, though Stalin takes time to see leading Orientals. However, many state and city officials—with the notable exception of Boston—have done their best to be hospitable, while federal officials have done as much as they could within their penny-pinched budget.

Contrast No. 3 — In Latin America the president who is friendly to the United States was educated at the University of Maryland and the University of California. He is President Galo Plaza of Ecuador, who also runs one of the steadiest governments in Latin America.

In Argentina the navy and air force are vigorously pro-American. Reason: Their commanding officers trained as cadets in the U. S. A. The Argentine army was partly trained by Germans and is anti-American.

In Brazil, the navy is also strong for the United States because its officers went to Annapolis. The Brazilian army, trained by Europeans, did not rush to join the United States immediately after Pearl Harbor.

Congress permits only a handful of Latin Americans to get a free education in the United States, but many come here at their own expense anyway.

Contrast No. 4—On July 13, the state department's appropriation for "exchange of persons" and other propaganda came up for debate, and a majority of the Senate voted to cut $2,300,000 off a budget already scaled to the bone. Those who fought for people-to-people friendship were Fulbright of Arkansas and Lehman of New York. Those who led the fight against it were McNamara of Tennessee, McCarran of Nevada, and Saltonstall of Massachusetts, with such senators as Byrd of Virginia, George of Georgia, Taft of Ohio, McCarthy of Wisconsin, and Brewster of Maine supporting them.

Meanwhile, a printer from Akron, Ohio, Fred W. Danner, walked into the state department and offered to compensate for the niggardliness of Congress by printing 1,000,000 colored booklets telling the story of America, free. His offer was accepted.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Madelyn Ward and Bob Beaudoin beat Mary Jacobs and Glenn Lewis, 7-5, 6-4 to take the mixed doubles championship of the city tennis tournament. Pat Glavin beat Madelyn Ward 6-4, 7-5 for the women's title.

Gladstone—Ted Springer, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Springer, Minneapolis, who have been vacationing here the past two weeks, has taken up burling for a pastime under the tutelage of William F. Girard, Gladstone, former world champion loof cuffer.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Christensen are the parents of an eight pound and seven ounce son born Thursday at the Shaw hospital. The baby has been named Leif Allen.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lindsay, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Defnet and George Perrin will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Denis McGinn on a weekend cruise to Ephraim on the McGinn yacht.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Thieves who broke into the warehouse of the Hewitt Grain and Provision company, 522 Stephenson avenue, loaded merchandise worth about $300 into a car which had been backed up to a rear window, and drove away early in the morning without leaving any clues.

St. Louis—Drained by heat and drought, "Ol Man River" barely is rolling along. The normally broad expanse of the thundering Mississippi, oftentimes treacherous and destructive, has narrowed down to comparatively small channel through which the tamed waters gently move. The Mississippi in July set a 70 year low water mark for that month.

First Trade Fair Opens In Chicago; Large Volume Of Business Expected

By WINSTON C. FOURNIER

Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

CHICAGO—In the market for an automatic macaroni-maker? Need a 35-ton carillon? Or maybe you're interested in owning the world's largest perfect star sapphire?

These and thousands of more prosaic items of merchandise and services are going on display for a two week stand at the First United States International Trade Fair here in the Windy City.

The Braibanti firm of Milan, Italy, will show the macaroni machine in its exhibit of a complete spaghetti and macaroni factory. The 90-foot high carillon is made by Pettit & Fritsen of Aarle-Rixtel, Holland. It will be played twice daily at the Fair. The 300-carat star sapphire will be shown by Kahinor Trading Co. of Colombo, Ceylon, in a collection of all sorts of precious gems except diamonds.

2,500 Firms at Exhibit

These firms are among the 2,500 companies from 46 countries and the globe, including the U. S., which will take part in the Fair. They'll be beating the business tom-toms for all sorts of merchandise—from Yugoslav fabrics and Japanese sewing machines to sealskin suitcases from Greenland. Several European firms will be offering steel, but they'll be asking plenty for it.

Fair officials think that attendance and actual buying at the exposition will be helped by the Korean war. I. S. Anoff, president says:

"Business men in the United States see the prospects of shortages in many consumer goods items as a result of the U. S. turning to increased military production. They realize the Trade Fair offers a quick and easy way to get new and assured supplies of items they'll need to stay in business. Foreign buyers are coming in increased numbers to buy heavily before shortages become severe."

As set up, the Trade Fair is primarily a place where sellers from around the world can get together to price goods and arrange distributorships among other things. The general public will be barred from the exhibit halls during the Fair except on Saturdays and Sundays and Tuesday and Thursday nights.

A Corps of Interpreters

There'll be a corps of interpreters on hand to assist the 50,000 expected buyers. Government experts will explain important regulations and assist with monetary matters. Every exhibit will have men on hand who will be qualified to quote prices, delivery dates and to write orders. Fair officials expect a large volume of business will actually be transacted but they won't venture an estimate.

Trade fairs are nothing new to the world—though this is the first one the United States has ever had. There are references to fairs in Old Testament books of the Bible. Babylonia, Nineveh, Athens and Rome developed as trade centers. The greatest period of the European fairs was in the 13th and 14th centuries.

The Leipzig Fair in Germany is considered the mother of the modern international trade fair. Others well known to American buyers and exhibitors are held at Paris, Milan, Brussels, Vienna, Uetzi, Prague and Barcelona.

It was only two years ago—in 1948—that the first international fair was held on the American continent—the Canadian International Trade Fair of Toronto.

Chicago Business Men Push It

The First United States International Trade Fair is promoted by a non-profit corporation consisting of Chicago business men. President Anoff is also president of Albert Pick & Co., makers of kitchen equipment for hotels and restaurants, while Col. John N. Gage is managing director. The corporation raised $200,000 through subscriptions and loans to underwrite the fair. Contrary to many European fairs, this one is not subsidized by the government.

To show the vast variety of merchandise from around the world, the fair will be in two parts. Eight miles of consumer goods will occupy the half mile long Navy pier. Capital goods will cover some six acres of space a few miles to the southwest at the International Amphitheatre.

Some 60 per cent of the 200,000 square feet of exhibit space will be utilized by consumer goods; 33 per cent is accounted for by industrial supplies and equipment, and such intangible exports as travel, tourist information and services take up the remainder.

European trade fairs have developed the practice of exhibiting products according to various commodity classifications rather than by national origin and the U. S. fair has followed this course. Thus, a buyer interested in ceramics doesn't have to trot all over the fair to compare qualities, artistry and prices—they're all in one spot.

In the consumer products classification about 23 per cent of the space will accommodate apparel and accessories, footwear, jewelry and gift items; 21 per cent is devoted to food and beverages, mainly wines; 14 per cent to textiles, fabrics, and yarns; 10 per cent to home furnishings, radios and musical instruments and the balance to a variety of stuff such as toys, hardware, recreation equipment and appliances.

France a Big Exhibitor

Aside from U. S. firms, the largest exhibitor will be France. It will show the wares of 152 manufacturers and 12 manufacturers' organizations in 23,820 square feet of space. They are spending over $200,000 for space and shipping charges to show a variety of articles that range from famous Paris fashions and autos and buses to famous French wines.

Maurice Mosnier, executive vice president of the French Committee for Participation in Foreign Fairs, says: "We hope that our efforts will bring favorable results, even though they may not be immediate. Nevertheless, experience gained will be valuable in providing a concrete survey of the United States market."

That's the idea too, of Folke Claesson, in charge of the Swedish exhibit. In 9,000 square feet of space 34 firms from Sweden will show cash registers, Diesel engines, business machines and other items in direct competition with U. S. manufacturers. There'll also be a big showing of "Swedish modern" furniture, textiles and foods.

Monaco the Smallest Exhibitor

Probably the smallest country exhibiting is the Principality of Monaco. This 375 acres of pleasure on the French Riviera is famed for its Monte Carlo Casino. But few persons realize it has articles for export. Monaco will show ceramic vases, medals, stamps and luxury editions of books as well as tourist information on the attractions of the country.

War-weary Greece will be on hand with its famous sponges, silks and wines and liquors. Egypt will show perfumes, dehydrated onions, tobacco, carpets and leather goods among other things.

From the other side of the world, Stanley B. Bamble of Sydney, Australia, will be showing an 11,000-egg incubator.

Little Portugal will show its wines—including an 1887 vintage Madeira—embroidery work from the Madeira islands, glassware, toys, furniture and cork. About 75 per cent of all the cork used in the U. S. comes from Portugal.

Among U. S. firms exhibiting at the Trade Fair are International Harvester Co., R. C. A. Communications, Inc., American Express Co., Webster Chicago Corp., Ekco Products Co. and many smaller firms who see the international trade fair as a good way of making contacts for distribution in foreign countries.

Letters From The People

Vision At Necedah

Dear Editor:

In the supplement to last Tuesday's city edition of the Press you carried an article about the alleged apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary to a woman in Necedah, Wisconsin and her claim that the Mother of Christ will appear to her again on August 15, the Feast of the Assumption.

Many people, Mary into heaven. Many people, out of the high regard they have for Jesus' Mother, are planning to be in Necedah on that date. The LaCrosse (Wis.) Register, official paper of the LaCrosse Catholic Diocese, very bluntly tells one and all to "stay at home and pray the rosary there." Speaking for Bishop John P. Treacy, the editor states that things in the Necedah affair are "highly questionable."

"There is absolutely nothing official about Necedah to date," the editorial goes on. "It is just a woman making claims anyone else could be making."

"There has been no real proof that her claims are true. Such a lack of evidence forbids acceptance of the claims at this time."

"The only sound advice to those considering a trip to Necedah is 'stay at home and pray the rosary there.'"

The church recognizes proven apparitions of Mary as at Lourdes and Fatima when the evidence is such as to leave no doubts. But here there seems to be many doubts in the minds of competent Diocesan Authorities.

Sincerely,
Fr. Stephen Schneider, O.F.M.,
Ass't Pastor, St. Joseph's Church.

Good Evening...

THE POSITIVE SIDE—A group of Escanaba residents who made no secret of their conversational subject were discussing Escanaba's city government the other day.

From one or the other in the group and with general agreement as to the sentiments expressed, came the following statements:

The new city beach project is a flop and the new beachhouse an "atrocity"; electric, water and gas rates are too high, the gas is too weak, the electric service has too many failures; the planning commission is trying to run the town; the forestry department is "butchering" the trees; the city is spending too much money.

But out of that discussion came not one positive suggestion for the improvement of any city service. Not one of the group was serving the city on an appointive or volunteer basis.

All they did was gripe and intensify their own disagreeable and uncooperative attitudes.

WORKING TOGETHER—It must be obvious even to the most hardened critics that Escanaba could not have achieved the prosperity it now enjoys without the concerted effort of the majority of our people.

There is always room for a constructively vocal minority; but there is no place in a community for the sniping critics who gather on street corners or across the back fence to belittle the efforts of those who are working to build—not to destroy.

IN EVERY FIELD—We have lived in Escanaba long enough to know that in the majority the people are proud of the city and its accomplishments.

We also know there are people who find nothing good in any civic program. They charge that civic and service clubs are composed of selfish individuals who think first of themselves and second of the city; that the Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to obstruction rather than promotion of the community.

They make snide remarks about the schools, infer scandalous things about civic leaders, and to an uninformed stranger would leave the impression that Escanaba is rampant with vice and a hotbed of political chicanery.

BY THEIR DEEDS—To attempt an answer to such slander would dignify its absurdity.

Only the most biased critic, however, will fail to recognize the answer in the good deeds accomplished.

More industries, paved streets, improved garbage collection, slightly streets, park development, smoke abatement, city planning and zoning, encouragement of retail trade, the tourist industry, comparatively low utility rates, new fireproof stadium at athletic field, plans for new school buildings, are not accomplished by accident.

Hundreds of people identified through organizations working for a better Escanaba are making possible these improvements.

WITH CONFIDENCE—The confidence of the people in their city government was expressed in the recent water plant and water extension system vote to bond the city for $750,000.

Before the proposal carried the city had a total bonded indebtedness of only $10,000.

Differences of opinion can not alter the fact that Escanaba's leadership has not been bad. If it had been the financial condition of the city would be bad, and that is not the case.

In the majority the people of Escanaba are prepared to face the future with confidence in the city's leadership and faith in the community's resources. And except for the complaining and disagreeable few they will work cooperatively to accomplish a better city for the benefit of all the people—including the back-fence grippers.

SOME CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT ORDINAL NUMBERS

Q. My English class is greatly interested in learning why the first two ordinal numbers—first and second—do not derive from the cardinal numbers one and two. Third derives from three, fourth derives from four, and so on, but not first and second. Can you tell us why this is? — Mrs. W. F.

A. It is strange that the Anglo-Saxons had no ordinal form from one. First in the Anglo-Saxon superlative of fore, meaning "foremost; preceding all others."

Second entered English from the Norman French. The Anglo-Saxons had no ordinal number for second, they used the word "other," saying, "first, other, third, fourth," etc.

Communique and applique, in French, are past participles, and are spelled with the acute accent mark (accent aigu)—a small tick that slants to the right—over the final "e." The accent mark turns the final "e" into an extra syllable which is pronounced "ay."

Now when communicate and applique entered English, communicate became a noun, and applique became a noun, an adjective, and a verb, and the words are pronounced like the French, i. e., with the final "e" as a separate syllable, thus: kuh-mew-ni-KAY, ap-li-KAY.

In newspaper printing and in typing the accent mark over the final "e" is seldom used; therefore, technique and physique and communicate and applique look exactly alike as far as the -ique is concerned, this leading the uninformed reader to the false conclusion that the -ique of communicate and applique is pronounced "cek."

One reason so many marriages are failures is because so many failures get married.

Robert Kelly Gets Radio Promotion

Robert Kelly, former announcer and program director for radio station WDBC in Escanaba, has been appointed program director for WJPG and WJPG-FM in Green Bay.

Kelly, a veteran of Marine corps service in World War II, succeeds Russ Wilder, who recently resigned. Prior to joining the WJPG staff in March, 1948, Kelly worked for WMAM in Marinette in 1941, 1943 and 1946-47, for WDBC in Escanaba in 1941 and again in 1947, and at one time operated an advertising agency in Menominee and Marinette and conducted a recording business there.

Last year he taught radio broadcasting at Green Bay Vocational school.

Lester Sturmer, the station's farm director, has been promoted to production manager but will continue handling farm programs for the Green Bay Press-Gazette stations. Sturmer, also a Marine corps veteran, formerly worked for WMAM in Marinette and helped set up WMIQ in Iron Mountain. Prior to joining WJPG and WJPG-FM in 1947, Sturmer was on the staff of WNAM in Neenah.

Windpipe Slit Saves His Injured Brother

PLENTYWOOD, MONT. — (AP) — Roald Lutness is thankful his brother cut his throat.

Here's why: Roald got hit in the Adams' apple with a baseball. The blow partially paralyzed a part of his breathing apparatus.

Roald's brother, Bernard, took a paring knife and cut a slit in the injured windpipe. A rubber tube was inserted in the slit, allowing a new intake for the life-giving oxygen.

Then Roald was driven 25 miles from his farm to the local hospital where a doctor praised the amateur surgery.

Bernard explained that most of the technical knowledge for the surgery came from his wife. He said she once trained three months to be a nurse and that it was she who inserted the tube after the incision was made.

Heavy Calendar Awaits Legislature In Lansing

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
(For JACK I. GREEN)

LANSING — (AP) — The Korean war and federal amendments to social security laws will confront the legislature with a far heavier calendar than it expected when it returns to the capital Aug. 15.

International and National developments have even blown the legislature's original excuse for the long recess sky high.

Main Item Gone
When it met June 20 and 21 all was serene on the International scene. The only thing hanging fire was the acquisition of Percy Jones hospital at Battle Creek from the army as a state mental hospital. Using this as an excuse, the Republican majority forced through the second long recess of the 1950 session.

In actuality, the recess was an attempt to tie the hands of Governor Williams so he could not call the legislature back into session before the November election for political purposes.

Since then, however, the outbreak of far eastern hostilities has meant that the army has suspended its plans to declare Percy Jones surplus. The hospital still has not been reactivated, but the army certainly is not listening anymore to Michigan's application to acquire it.

As surely as the war knocked the Percy Jones item from the agenda, it put several other even weightier items on.

The first of these to be suggested by Governor Williams was a constitutional amendment to reopen the World War II veterans' bonus to make Michigan men serving in the Korean war eligible.

If the legislature should adopt such a proposal by a two-thirds majority, there would be plenty of time to get it on the November ballot for a vote of the people. The deadline is 35 days before the election.

In November, 1946, the people by constitutional amendment authorized the issue of $270,000,000 in bonds to finance the bonus. Only $230,000,000, however, was issued, and to date something over $219,000,000 has been paid out.

Thus there is about $10,000,000 left to pay the tag end of the World War II bonus and the Korean veterans. If any more is needed, up to $40,000,000 can be realized by selling more bonds.

The governor has called a meeting of veterans' organization representatives for Aug. 10 to discuss the proposed bonus extension.

Another agenda item, one that is going to cause the economy-minded Republican majority more than one headache, is the governor's announced intention of asking for more money to meet civil defense expenses.

Since the Legislature left, a full-scale drive to reactivate the state's civil defense program has gotten under way. There has been some clerical and organizational expense already, which has come out of the reduced appropriations to the state police and the governor's office.

Williams is going to ask for money to continue the organizational and planning work.

He is also going to ask that cuts in the state police budget be restored and that a supplementary appropriation be made. The exact amount of the requests is yet to be determined.

There are reliable reports that Williams will ask enough money to permit the state police to enlist 140 candidates to send to October and November training schools.

The Republicans are going to find it hard to resist Williams' demands for the money on the basis that the safety of the state requires it in case hostilities spread to this country.

Not related to the war situation, but still requiring immediate attention are amendments to state laws to permit the state to participate with the federal government in expanded social security programs.

Present law limits state participation with the federal government to specifically listed social security programs.

New federal laws will permit federal participation in the care of permanently and totally disabled persons and the aged in hospitals. State law amendments to add these to the list will be necessary, and the governor gives signs of using the occasion to call for a complete revision of the state's social welfare laws.

Truman Incompetent, Should Be Impeached, Says States Righter

BATON ROUGE, La. — (P)—A States Rights Democratic leader called President Truman "incompetent" and suggested that he be impeached.

In a fiery speech yesterday before the Louisiana Democratic State Central committee, Leander H. Perez declared:

"What are we afraid of? The incompetent in Washington who practically disbanded our marines, who put his campaign collector at the head of our so-called union at the head of our admitted subversive forces, who admitted government, who called the Alger Hiss case a Red Herring, and who has the most corrupt administration with which this country has ever been disgraced?"

The state committee ousted States Righter W. H. Talbot of New Orleans as State Democratic executive committeeman and replaced him with Gov. Earl K. Long.

Waitress Can't Get Sid Grauman Fortune

LOS ANGELES — (P)—Waitress Carrie J. Adair's try for the late Sid Grauman's million dollar fortune has ended in failure.

A superior court judge yesterday dismissed her petition for probate of an asserted will in which she was referred to as Grauman's "childhood sweetheart" and bequeathed $32,000.

She testified she met Grauman in Texas in 1916 and lived with him there and in California for four years, during which a daughter was born to them.

The court held the purported will a forgery and declared she is not Grauman's widow. Grauman died last March at the age of 70 and left no will. The judge named four administrators of Grauman's estate, including two of the 25 cousins who have filed claims.

Government Takes Hand To Avert New Tieup On Railroads

WASHINGTON — (P)—The White House apparently fearing a railroad tieup as defense activities are being stepped up, disclosed today it has intervened in an effort to settle the dispute over the 40-hour work week for conductors and trainmen.

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman, top labor trouble shooter, has been meeting for the past two days with representatives of the nation's major railroads and the unions involved.

The trainmen and conductors unions, with approximately 250,000 members, have asked the railroads to extend to them the same 40-hour work week arrangement, without loss of pay, which was granted to 17 non-operating rail unions a year ago.

OKLAHOMA CITY — (P)—A 12-year-old boy told a companion yesterday that "I think I'll shoot myself," and then fired a single 22 rifle bullet into his head.

He lived and surgeons removed part of the slug from his brain. He was reported doing "pretty well."

Tommy Duggers, 12, was on the front porch of his sister's home near here with Jimmy Johnson, 10. Jimmy told sheriff's deputies Tommy threw away a toy gun, said "I think I'll shoot myself," and walked into the house.

Deportation Hearing Of Former Houghton Professor Continues

CHICAGO — (P)—Northwestern university faculty members were government witnesses yesterday at a deportation hearing against a former colleague who once made wartime broadcasts from Germany for the Nazis.

The government is seeking to deport Edward V. Sittler, 34, who went to Berlin as a student before the war and renounced his American citizenship to become a German citizen and a Nazi party member.

Sittler returned to America in 1946 as a witness in German spy trials. He taught German at Northwestern in 1947 and 1948, was dismissed, and then went to the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, as a German lecturer. He later was dismissed by Michigan Tech.

Hubert Jannach, an assistant professor in Northwestern's German department, testified yesterday before immigration examiner Frank J. Gillespie that he heard Sittler say in 1943 that American troops in Germany looted, raped and committed injustices.

He quoted Sittler as saying that German soldiers were too moral and well disciplined to do such things.

He told reporters afterwards that he informed the president about "my conversations with General MacArthur and my observations" on a battlefield visit to Korea.

Rye Plantings May Solve Deer Problems

HOLLAND — (P)—The state conservation commission is going to try experimental rye plantings in an attempt to solve a deer food problem.

Only after long argument, however, was such a decision reached at the commission meeting here. The vote was 4 to 2.

The rye plantings are to form a supplemental food supply in the wooded areas of the north-eastern lower peninsula. The plantings will serve as an emergency menu for late fall and early days of the winter breakup.

Long argument attended the decision. However, it is planned to plant the rye in areas of about 100

House Measure Gives Truman Wide Powers To Prevent Inflation

WASHINGTON — (P)—The House Banking committee completed action today on a bill to give President Truman broad powers to curb inflation for a limited time.

The bill is similar to one approved Monday by the Senate banking committee, except that the Senate bill would keep the powers in effect until June 30, 1952. The House bill would end them one year earlier.

Otherwise the two bills provide standby powers for the president to impose wage and price ceilings and rationing, to allocate scarce materials, to make production loans for defense purposes and to curb consumer and real estate credit.

House leaders hoped to pass the bill late today but there was a chance the final vote may not be reached until tomorrow.

The bill was worked out late yesterday by the House Banking committee, after a week of debate in the House had produced no results.

Communists Fall Back Before U. S. Attacks In Korea

The Communists reported "aggressive-minded United Nations troops carried out successful action in every engagement with the enemy" along the entire 140-mile front.

Correspondent Hal Boyle reported U. S. First Cavalrymen chased after a battalion of Reds in the hills two miles below Taegu, 15 miles northwest of Taegu, the South Korean republic's emergency capital.

The Communists had waded the river in the night and commanded the road to Taegu with machine-gun and mortar fire from a 1,200-foot ridge.

North of Waegwan, South Korean troops, drove the invaders back to the Nakdong river. One hundred fleeing Reds were moved down by their own panicky comrades when they tried to get back across the river from the Allied east bank.

Some of the river crossing Reds on the Allied side of the Nakdong six miles below Changyong, were driven out of high ground by the Americans. Changyong is 23 miles southwest of Taegu.

Late front-line dispatches from the Changyong bridgehead said the bulge there had been reduced by U. S. troops who drove the Communists out of high ground. These dispatches said the Reds were being herded in exposed positions on a slope near the river.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, eighth army commander, had ordered the invaders at this point wiped out by nightfall.

Fighters of the Fifth air force flew nearly 500 sorties Tuesday on their 44th consecutive day of combat. The Far East air forces reported the rail yards destroyed at the Communist capital of Pyongyang in a 450-ton attack Monday.

'Alcoholics Anonymous' Doing Wonderful Work

Of all the known and applied treatments for alcoholism, one in particular stands out as a monumental beacon for those who labor in the darkness of alcoholic helplessness and despair. By far the most dramatic, the most effective, and the most available, it welcomes the pauper as well as the millionaire, and it gets both. The story of Alcoholics Anonymous is packed with exciting chapters of rehabilitation for thousands of alcoholics who were once considered beyond the borders of all hope. A. A. is peculiarly endowed with the ways and means of lending undeniable inspiration and influence on those wanting and needing guidance and help with their drinking affliction. It ever stands ready to step in where all else and all others may have failed.

When A. A. first came into existence, it was generally known and recognized to be a haven for those alcoholics who had, through their drinking, plunged to the very bottom of life's scrap heap. Love, sympathy and friendship were qualities utterly foreign to those who first sought help in the A. A. extended to men and women virtually exiled to lives of misery. Many of them were jobless, penniless, and not just a few homeless. But, from the nucleus of those first few who unitedly sought a last reprieve from the enslavement of alcoholism, there gradually grew larger and larger membership from all walks of life. When it became evident that A. A. could work and did work for the most abandoned victims of alcoholism, its story crossed the country as well as the oceans to set in motion the formation of new groups.

No Fee to Join
The cost of admission to this organization is that which has already been spent during one's disordered drinking days to reduce himself or herself to the low ebb of desperation before help was finally sought. Time and time again prospective members of A. A. express their concern over the matter of "cost" to join this organization. They are amazed to learn that they have already paid all the costs, some of which cannot be expressed in terms of dollars and cents—the cost of broken homes and hearts, and broken lives—physical, mentally and spiritually.

A. A. has the welcome sign out for any man or woman who wants to stop drinking, but, left alone, cannot do so. When it is honestly realized that one's life has become unmanageable because of powerlessness over alcohol, and there is a sincere desire to do something about it, Alcoholics Anonymous can provide the effective guidance. Anyone in any walk of life, with or without any religion, with or without family or friends, rich or poor, is a welcome member and a casual observer of the membership in A. A. will be quick to recognize the all-inclusive variety of human composition in its ranks.

In its relatively short span of existence, A. A. has been the source of innumerable, timely transformations for alcoholics otherwise doomed to early extinction. Within the past few years, a remarkable change has taken place in the role A. A. has played. Today many people are coming into the groups because they have recognized the appearance of symptoms which indicate the approach of alcoholism. This is the fruit of education—the result of valuable information being widely spread by agencies vitally interested in arresting the progress of alcoholism. Where A. A. was formerly the "last ditch stand" for those caught in the alcoholic trap, it is now becoming a "first line of defense" against threatening alcoholism.

The ultimate goal of all research and treatment in disease is cure and prevention. We know that there is no cure for alcoholism, nor any certain preventive. An alcoholic can never be cured so that he can drink moderately and the only sure preventive against alcoholism would be that of complete abstinence. Pending scientific accomplishments along these lines, A. A. can and does serve in a preventive role when it helps those who are in danger of slipping over the dividing line between controlled excessive drinking and uncontrolled compulsive drinking.

Write for Information

A. A. groups are today scattered throughout the country with nearly all large communities having groups and most of the smaller ones. The total membership is crowding the 80,000 mark. It is generally conceded that the large percentage of recoveries in A. A. is indeed higher than any other group or combination of groups engaged in the treatment of alcoholism. Of course, it must be realized that A. A. is more available to a greater number of patients than other private and public agencies interested in the problem drinker. If there is no known A. A. group in a given locality, any interested party may make confidential inquiry as to the nearest group by writing to: The Alcoholics Foundation, P. O. Box 459, Grand Central Annex, N. Y. 17, N. Y. or Escanaba A. A. Chapter, P. O. Box 43, Escanaba.

A very large percentage of all persons contacting A. A. for the first time succeed in gaining recovery without any drinking mishaps. However, there are many who succeed for a while and then drift away to resume the drinking either because they feel that perhaps they can drink like "ladies and gentlemen" or because they kidded themselves into thinking that they are not alcoholics and hence do not need the A. A. program. Of the "slips" and the self-considered non-alcoholics who leave the A. A. fold, a goodly number learn through sad experience that they just cannot drink, and return to the program. Others continue on their mad flight and unapplied await the dictates of Fate—usually an unkind end.

As Alcoholics Anonymous continues to grow, its success story will become known to additional thousands of parents and children. By rehabilitating alcoholic fathers and mothers, the younger generation will be the heirs of a richer, more hopeful life. Once the parents are freed from the personality defects accompanying alcoholism, the children will be less likely to develop unhealthy characteristics, for we know that children of maladjusted parents, subjected to unfavorable atmosphere and circumstances, are apt to acquire alcoholic tendencies, neurotic dispositions, and criminal instincts. A. A.'s formula for a better way of living without alcohol, makes for a happier life among all others who come in close contact with its members.

The program of Alcoholics Anonymous is based on the experience of alcoholics, together with what has been learned from medicine, psychiatry and the spiritual principles common to all creeds. It is a philosophy of life designed to help all who would accept it and practice it in all their daily affairs. It emphasizes harmony at the expense of conflict; promotes humility in place of pride and arrogance, and inspires the surrender of all resentments, jealousy and intolerance, for these defects of character are the fore-runners of many a drunk.

Steps for Recovery

The suggested steps for recovery as outlined in the A. A. program are simple, yet they require understanding, study and untiring effort on the part of an alcoholic every day of his life, if recovery is to be maintained. One must accept them with honesty, open-mindedness, and willingness.

If the A. A. program seems to some a plan of action for saints only, it must be understood that those who have successfully adopted it, and there are thousands, were anything but saintly at the height of their drinking days. Furthermore, one realizes, or should realize, that perfect compliance with these steps can never be attained, but any degree of effort expended in this direction cannot fail to produce a very vital change in one's thinking attitude, and behavior. Progress and not perfection is all that the A. A. program would hope for.

The success of A. A. has long confounded members of the medical fraternity, religious leaders, and society in general. Perhaps the underlying reason for its outstanding success has been due to the complete understanding which exists between alcoholics themselves. They have endured similar experiences, trials, and tribulations, and it is a well accepted statement that "Misery likes company." In any event, they know what compulsive drinking is, even if no one else understands it. In short, they have tolerance for one another, and with a common objective confronting them—recovery—they freely engage in mutual assistance.

Meetings of A. A. groups are simple, free from ritual and authority. Groups are self-governing with emphasis stressed on rotation of elected officers and the avoidance of financial difficulties. There are no paid officers serving A. A., except in large groups where a full time secretary or janitor might be needed. Membership in A. A. simply consists of one's recognition of an unmanageable drinking problem and the honest desire to do something about it by seeking help from Alcoholics Anonymous.

Every Member Has Sponsor

Every new member has a sponsor—an older member who is recovering from his own drinking affliction and has a working knowledge of the A. A. program. He explains the nature of the program for recovery and helps in every way possible to get the new member out of the confused state of mind which is usually found existent on entrance into the organization. Immediate problems and difficulties are dealt with and every effort made to straighten them out so that he can commence to think correctly for a change.

The anonymity of its membership protects those particular individuals who may wish their alcoholic admission to remain a secret from those outside of A. A. However, were the truth to be known, few there are whose drinking notoriety has not reached the attention of the neighborhood or the community at one time or another. Alcoholism has a way of blasting cherished hopes for secrecy. Unfortunately, there are many drinkers who would prefer to live in alcoholic despair and turmoil rather than to admit their drinking difficulties by seeking assistance from A. A. These people fear the ridicule of others in their circle of friends and acquaintances, should they so reveal themselves as acknowledged alcoholics. As a matter of fact, they would undoubtedly gain the wholesome respect of others were they to do something about their uncontrolled drinking which has unquestionably not gone on unnoticed.

Alcoholics Anonymous is not a group of reformists, crusaders, or "holier-than-thou" characters at war with alcohol—its distillers, dispensers, or drinkers. It exists only to help alcoholics in need of help and who want help. Relatives, friends, doctors, clergymen, employers, law enforcement agencies, and the courts frequently resort to A. A. for counsel and assistance when confronted with vexing alcoholic problems. Ready response will be forthcoming to any call for help. Anybody may put in such a call, but it is essential for one to realize that, unless the alcoholic wants to be helped and is willing to cooperate, neither A. A., nor anything else can help.

Most alcoholics can be treated successfully and it is usually well worth the effort expended to help those so afflicted.

From our relatively brief survey of the alcoholic problem, we may reasonably conclude that:

1. Alcoholism is a disease and

Diplomats And Military Don't Play On Same Team

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Two recent episodes show that the diplomats and the military in our government are still reluctant at times to play on the same team. This lack of team play was one of the reasons for the tragedy of Korea.

The first episode involves General MacArthur's visit to Chiang Kai-shek on the island of Formosa.

According to a widely circulated rumor, state department officials knew nothing of the visit until word of it came over the news tickers in the department in Washington.

That is not altogether accurate. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and one of two of his assistants knew that MacArthur or a military mission named by him would visit Chiang to appraise the situation on the island.

Doug Went On His Own
Efforts were made to persuade MacArthur to take a diplomatic officer with him so that the military and the political approach would be coordinated. MacArthur was not persuaded. He went off on his own and the state department was left to discover as best it could what he had learned and what he had said to Chiang.

The conference between the generalissimo and the general was bound to have worldwide repercussions and especially in Asia. It could be the preface to a commitment by the United States to fight against the millions of Red Chinese soldiers on the mainland of China. It came as the vital relationship between the United States and India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru had reached an uncertain stage.

In Washington Acheson faced a press conference with little knowledge of what MacArthur's visit signified. All he could say in response to the inevitable questions was that the issue of sending arms to Chiang was being studied within the framework of President Truman's declared intention to try to prevent a Communist invasion of Formosa.

Episode In Greece
MacArthur has, of course, long been a law unto himself. While the second episode has less shattering implications, it is almost more revealing.

Lieutenant General James A. Van Fleet returned to New York from two and a half years as administrator of American military aid to Greece. Van Fleet by all reports has done a "good" job and he has received merited praise. But on arriving in New York he gave an interview in which he made certain extraordinary political statements. The New York Times quoted him as follows:

"As a matter of fact, civil liberties exist in too great a measure for the good of Greece. Although the Communist party is outlawed, as it should be here, Communist collaborators, masquerading under different labels, are still in the government. The shooting phase is over, but the Communists will continue to bore from within."

This statement by a man in the uniform of the United States army was, first of all, a direct attack on a friendly foreign government. It cut across the policy of the state department in Greece and in particular it was a rebuke to the former American ambassador to Greece, Henry F. Grady.

In his service in Athens Grady's avowed aim was to encourage the development of a middle-ground government that would have real popular support which was a lot more than could be said for the cynical rightists who had been holding power. The belief here is that he succeeded admirably and as a dubious reward he has been sent as ambassador to Iran where it is hoped he will be able to reconcile warring factions and help in achieving a sound government.

Exceeded Authority
When Grady learned of Van Fleet's statement, he sent some scorching cables from Teheran.

He pointed out what he had reported before—that Van Fleet had stepped way beyond his military authority to interfere politically in Greece.

Averell Harriman, now the president's reconciler and general coordinator of foreign and military policy, has gone to Tokyo to confer with General MacArthur. There are those in government who take a philosophic view of all this. They say that America, in accepting its world responsibilities, will inevitably make mistakes and the failure at times to co-ordinate military and diplomatic moves is part of a learning process. They believe that Harriman in his new role will be able to put the military and diplomatic pieces together and bring back to the president the necessary appraisal for a coordinated policy.

But ordinary people, both at home and abroad, may not have the patience to wait out this process of education. It is hard to go to school when the schoolhouse is on fire.

Pipeline Workers To Save Soil

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — Soil conservation work is now being done by the big pipeline companies in cooperation with farmers. One firm, the Texas-Illinois Natural Gas Pipe Line Co., has a special department to save soil. It develops plans to hold it in place, terraces hillsides, plants grass and develops other practices.

E. D. Warren, a company executive, explains that most pipeline companies have discovered that their lines face extensive damage when the soil washes away. It is cheaper to keep the soil in place than to repair washed out lines, he indicates.

Summer Has Its Dangers

Ticks, Poison Ivy And Drownings

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Summer perils, Ticks, poison ivy, drownings, snake bite, too much sun, accidents. Take care! Ticks! The common tick is the bug that transmits to humans the dread Rocky Mountain spotted fever and inflicts annoying bites.

There are preventives and cures for spotted fever, but the danger still prevails if precaution is not used. Deaths, particularly of children, are reported from it each year. The U. S. Health Service reported 560 fever cases for 1949. This was 34 more than in 1948. Virginia led with 101 cases. Dr. F. C. Bishop, Bureau of Entomology, Department of Agriculture, has studied ticks since 1909, has been bitten and still fears them although he's never been infected.

American Dog Tick

He tells me any American dog tick, also known as the wood tick—brown, flat, one-eighth of an inch wide, about a quarter-inch long—may be a carrier. "Only about one in 300 is infected," he explains, "but that may be the one that bites you."

Dr. Bishop says people should not confuse this tick with the brown dog tick now all over the U. S. A. pest of dogs, a household pest, it is not dangerous to man. When engorged it's about one-third inch; bluish gray. Wood ticks attach to you anywhere, most often at the edges of the hair. They nip into flesh and gorge with blood. If one has taken hold, remove it with tweezers or a piece of cloth held between fingers. Paint the bite with iodine. Kill the bug. Don't touch it.

Watch Fever Symptoms

Go to a doctor if the tick is imbedded too deeply. Watch for fever symptoms, four to 12 days after bite. There's a chill, then rising temperature, headaches—finally a rash of small, pinkish dots, usually around wrists and ankles. "Tick fever used to be fatal reaching this stage," Dr. Bishop says. "Now, there are two drugs, aureomycin and chloromycetin, which the Health Service says provide almost certain cure."

There's also a vaccine, but the resistance it provides, while appreciable, is not always complete. "Be sure to rid yourself of ticks anyhow," says Dr. Bishop. Persons exposed should be examined for ticks at least once a day. DDT dusting of these areas is recommended. It's a good idea to train yourself to feel ticks crawling on you and remove them, says Dr. Bishop. How do you do this? "Put one on you. Let it crawl," he says. "I've rotten so I'm able to pick them off in my sleep."

Gall Bladder Is Medical Hit Show On Television

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA)—John Doe's gall bladder, complete with four stones, is famous. To test a system of televising operations, two cameras took in every detail of the removal of a diseased gall bladder from an unnamed patient.

John Doe, under an anesthetic, slept peacefully through the whole thing, as two surgeons neatly removed the organ at Bellevue Hospital. About 20 blocks away, in the United Nations building, a gathering of medical and radio experts watched the demonstration.

For two hours and 15 minutes, a sober-voiced commentator delivered a slice-by-slice account of what was going on. The witnesses who knew what they were watching said that everything came over clearly. Technically, the demonstration was a success.

Don't look up your video program, expecting to choose between an appendectomy on channel three and a tonsillectomy on channel six. Not even as summer replacements will operations be televised to the general public. They're purely educational in nature. They're designed to give medical students and interested surgeons an incision-side seat at the operating table.

The same equipment used to snoop on John Doe's gall bladder will be loaded into airplanes in a few weeks, on the first leg of a South American tour. About five tons—$80,000 worth—of sound and picture gadgets, accompanied by nine experts, will visit Puerto Rico, Brazil, Argentina, Venezuela and Mexico.

The tour is co-sponsored by E.

R. Squibb and Sons International Corp. and the International General Electric Co., Inc. They'll televise operations in the five Latin and South American nations, with 20 TV receivers all tuned in. The receivers will be set up in hotels where medical conventions are going on, for the doctors to study up on the latest surgical techniques.

Two cameras are used in the system. One, directly above the patient, is constantly focused on the incision. Viewers can watch the surgeon's hands at work, the forceps holding back the skin.

Occasionally, the second camera goes into action. It is set on a movable dolly, and is used to bring in the surgeon's face or the oxygen tanks as they're turned on or nurses taking the patient's blood pressure. The second camera also focused on the chief surgeon as he held up, one by one, marble-sized gall stones.

The surgeon is also equipped with a chest microphone, so he may add comments from time to time. The regular commentator, in a room "off stage," did most of the talking, but every once in a while the surgeon put in a few sentences.

"These knots," he said, as his colleague began tying up John Doe's wound, "are tied with square knots secured over a double hitch."

Medical students in hospital galleries could only catch a flash of the actual operation. Mostly, they got a good view of the surgeon's back. But this new television method gives them a clear picture. They can see everything from the initial incision to the

Scientists Find Typhoon Birthplace

LOS ANGELES — (AP)—Typhoons which pound the Orient start in the Marshall Island area. This fact has been learned as part of the atom bomb tests during "Operation Crossroads." It is reported by University of California scientists who worked with the operation.

They say also that it was found that typhoons which sweep the Orient and the hurricanes of the Caribbean start in the same way. This is contrary to some previous opinion.

Korean War Is Bad Spot For Bystander

By HAL BOYLE
WITH U. S. TROOPS IN KOREA—War has no box seat for the innocent bystander.

And the tides of combat have turned the roads of South Korea into dust choked lanes of human misery and death.

As you travel up to the front you see such things as these: A slender middle-aged woman plods along, almost double by the weight of her mother, toothless, crone who clings to her like a small child playing piggy back.

A young lad leads by the hand a blind old man with a white beard thinned by time. A naked wailing little boy trots through the line of refugees looking for his parents.

An elderly couple, too feeble to walk, ride in the back of a jolting ox cart. On a pallet beside them is stretched a youth who looks as if he were dying of tuberculosis. A lame girl with a twisted foot limps after them.

In No Hurry
A mother carrying all her household belongings in a bundle on her head holds a baby to her breast and suckles him. A peasant children spread their wares on mats by the roadside. Some pause by rice paddy streams and bathe their bare and swollen feet worn raw by the stone rutted roads. Still others lie log-still in exhausted slumber.

Over the straggling figures rise storms of yellow dust stirred up by the churning wheels of military vehicles. The refugees clog traffic. Motor horns honk impatiently. Worried truck drivers shout curses. But the refugees move out of the way slowly. They are in no hurry because most of them do not know where they are going anyway.

Many have no homes to go back to. Their villages have been burned by artillery fire, strafing plane attacks, or razed by withdrawing American troops to keep them from becoming hiding places for enemy vehicles. The Reds have a habit of driving their tanks through the clay walls of village huts and using the thatched roof as camouflage.

Panic Near Front

The refugees neither weep nor complain. Nor does one family ask or expect help from another. Their expression is as solid and blank as that often worn by infantrymen too long in the line—a dumb acceptance of suffering and an indifference to it because their world has no horizon beyond pain.

Only as you near the front yourself do you see fear. Here is panic in the eyes of women and children who flee peaceful homes under the thunder of strange guns. Some wander aimlessly toward the battlelines. To keep these lines clear, South Korean police order the refugees to follow the stream beds back or take paths through the hills.

After days and days of driving back and forth through this shifting, restless, endless sea of human suffering your mind becomes numb to the flight of thousands of individual atoms that compose it. So much distress dulls the eye. You feel sorry for them all but there are so many that only a few cases leave a sore spot in your heart.

Fumbling In Darkness

I remember two. Crossing a bridge I saw a man in tattered soiled white rags crawling on hands and knees across the dry stone studded creek bed below. He held up a pleading arm to a group of refugees but they turned their eyes away and walked on.

And I guess that is what I did too. Coming home at twilight, our jeep passed a solitary bearded old native guiding his way down a mountain path by tapping the ditch edge with his cane. He turned his sightless eyes toward us for a moment and then his cane began tapping again. We turned a bend and he was gone. But all the rest of the way I had a feeling that the blind old man was all humanity himself—a lone refugee fumbling downhill in darkness, stone by stone through a world whose real brightness was shut forever from his eyes.

Airport Greeting Is Money Saver

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(P)—Because a big greeting was written for Miss America, the City of Phoenix saved itself about $2,500 a year. It was last fall when Jacques Mercer of Litchfield Park, Ariz., won the beauty title at Atlantic City and her home state planned a gala reception.

Along the airport runway townspeople wrote a big "Welcome Jacques" sign she could see as the plane came in for a landing. As the reception was only a one day affair, an inexpensive water mixed casein base paint was used. Officials at the airport waited for it to wash away. They waited, and waited and waited. For weeks planes coming to Phoenix saw "Welcome Jacques" in big letters. Finally the greeting was obliterated with flat black paint.

But the sign had proved the less expensive paint could be used as runway markers, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration approved, said Airport Manager Walter Fulkerson. So the city, which maintains the airport, will save about $2,500 on its paint bill each year.

Musical Birth Notices Popular

EAST AURORA, N. Y.—(P)—Musical birth notices are all the rage in East Aurora of late, thanks to the amplified organ chimes of the First Presbyterian Church. The idea belongs to the minister, the Rev. B. Gibson Lewis, Jr. The practical end is handled by the church organist, Mrs. Fred D. Morgan.

Mrs. Morgan plays a 10-minute recital for each new arrival in the parish. The chimes can be heard over most of the village. "The Westminster Chimes" usually starts it off, followed by "The Dookey," a nursery song to indicate a girl or a boy, a hymn, a lullaby and "The Westminster Chimes" again.

"The clue for girls," says Mrs. Morgan, "is usually 'Mary Had A Little Lamb' or 'Bo Peep.' For the boys, it's 'Farmer In The Dell' or 'Little Boy Blue.' If I can, I try to work in a few bars of a song that will honor the mother."

FROZEN FUNDS

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—(P)—Money, Mrs. Taylor Mc Ginnis will tell you, isn't safe anywhere in a house these days. A burglar stole four one dollar bills from her icebox.

NAMES FOR CARROTS

MOSCOW, Idaho—(P)—The names they think up for carrots. You could, conceivably, ask for a hamburger or a streamliner and wind up with a sample of rabbit fodder. Those are just two of the 350 variety names for carrots, reports a recent circular from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Jim Kraus of the College of Agriculture here helped write the pamphlet, which appears after some confusion has been reported among carrot growers and buyers about the right names for the different kinds. Other fancy names for carrots are orange ice, braunschweiger, airliner, stump, oxheart and narrowshouldered.

Rachel Anthony,
George Mansur
Exchange Wows

Miss Rachel Eloise Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Anthony, 404 Lake Shore drive, became the bride of George Alexander Mansur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mansur of Basrah, Iraq, at a simply appointed wedding ceremony in First Methodist church at 5 p. m., yesterday.

The Rev. Otto Steen officiated at the wedding service, attended only by immediate family members. During the service, Miss Irene Steen played "Lohengrin" and other traditional wedding music.

The bride, who was escorted to the gladioli-banked altar by her father, was attired in a gown of petal pink satin with tulle overskirt. She wore a headpiece of pale nylon lace caught to pink gladioli buds and pale blue nylon gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink gladioli.

Her only attendant, Miss Joyce Germanson of Escanaba, wore a peach taffeta gown with net over skirt and matching floral headband. Her bouquet was fashioned with peach-tinted gladioli.

William Perkins was best man for Mr. Mansur.

Mrs. Anthony selected a gray crepe dress and wore a shoulder corsage of gladioli for the wedding.

Trip To Europe

Dinner with covers for 26 was served immediate family members and those in the bridal party at the House of Ludington at 6 p. m. and a reception for 80 guests at the Anthony residence followed. A tiered wedding cake centered decorations for the dinner and a floral centerpiece of gladioli, mums and candytuft highlighted home decorations.

Mrs. John Bartlett, Mrs. Charles Hammar and Mrs. William Perkins poured for the reception, during which Miss Irene Steen played organ music and sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "O Promise Me."

The newly-wedded couple left last night for a trip to the Copper Country after which they will leave for England to meet Mr. Mansur's parents, who are in Britain for the International Lawyers convention. From England they will go to France, Italy, Egypt, Greece, India and Iraq. After Christmas the couple will return to Escanaba to make their home.

Mr. Mansur, who attended the American university in Beirut for two years, has been in the United States five years. He attended the University of Michigan three years and received his degree in mechanical engineering in 1949 from Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit. For the past year he has been in the employ of the Harnischfeger corporation in Escanaba.

The new Mrs. Mansur attended the University of Michigan and the Detroit Business and Secretarial Institute. For the past year she has been a clerical employee of the House of Ludington. She is a member of Delta Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Those here for the wedding included David and Edward Anthony of Alexandria, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Berwyn Anthony of Munising, Mrs. Robert L. Drake of Jackson, Miss Kathleen Donnelly of Chicago and Manuel Simon of Iraq, a student at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

Hose Step Out In Style

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The new shorter skirt lengths, seen in summer fashions, are calling attention to the leggy look. This, in turn means that a greater importance is placed on hosiery. Stocking interest is always stressed when hemlines rise.

One of the new stocking designs replaces the usual solid heel reinforcement with delicate zebra stripes (right) for a slenderizing effect. Stripes are matched up with stocking seams in wine, black, navy or brown and used against light or burnished hosiery shades.

Another design, called fotogra-vure (left) frames the ankle neatly and calls attention to trim legs through a black line around the reinforcement. It's intended to snare attention to a pretty ankle at spectator sports or during general afternoon wear.

The crystal clear sandal stocking, entirely without foot reinforcements, is the best companion for the nude sandal and for the short evening dress. It creates sheer illusion while protecting the feet from dust.

Illegal Venison Proves Costly

Manistique Man Pays
$135.00 On 2 Counts

Clifford St. John of Manistique pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing and transporting illegal venison before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson early this week and was fined $120 on two counts and assessed costs of court action which together totalled $135.60.

St. John was arrested by Conservation Officer John Mahar and Michigan State Troopers as he drove through Gladstone. The frozen carcasses of two deer, both in the hide were found in his auto. Both carcasses were headless, although there was a deer head also in the auto.

Apparently the deer had been kept in a freezer someplace.

St. John had been arrested previously by Conservation Officer Hugh J. Fisher of Garden on Federal Highway 13 after shooting had been heard in the area. Deer hair and blood was found in his auto. He denied any wrongdoing.

After his arrest with the deer carcasses in possession he changed his plea and both charges were cared for at the one time.

Wine, Women Bets Bring Few Frauds

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Wine, women and gambling are seldom the real cause of embezzlement, says Dr. Donald R. Cressey, University of California sociologist.

This finding is contrary to the popular beliefs on the subject, he says. He thinks embezzlement usually starts when a man gets into financial trouble he cannot talk over with others — usually because he is ashamed of it. He usually thinks of his frauds as "borrowings." Then he suddenly realizes it is stealing. Then he frequently gives himself up, Cressey says.

COMMUNITY SAILING

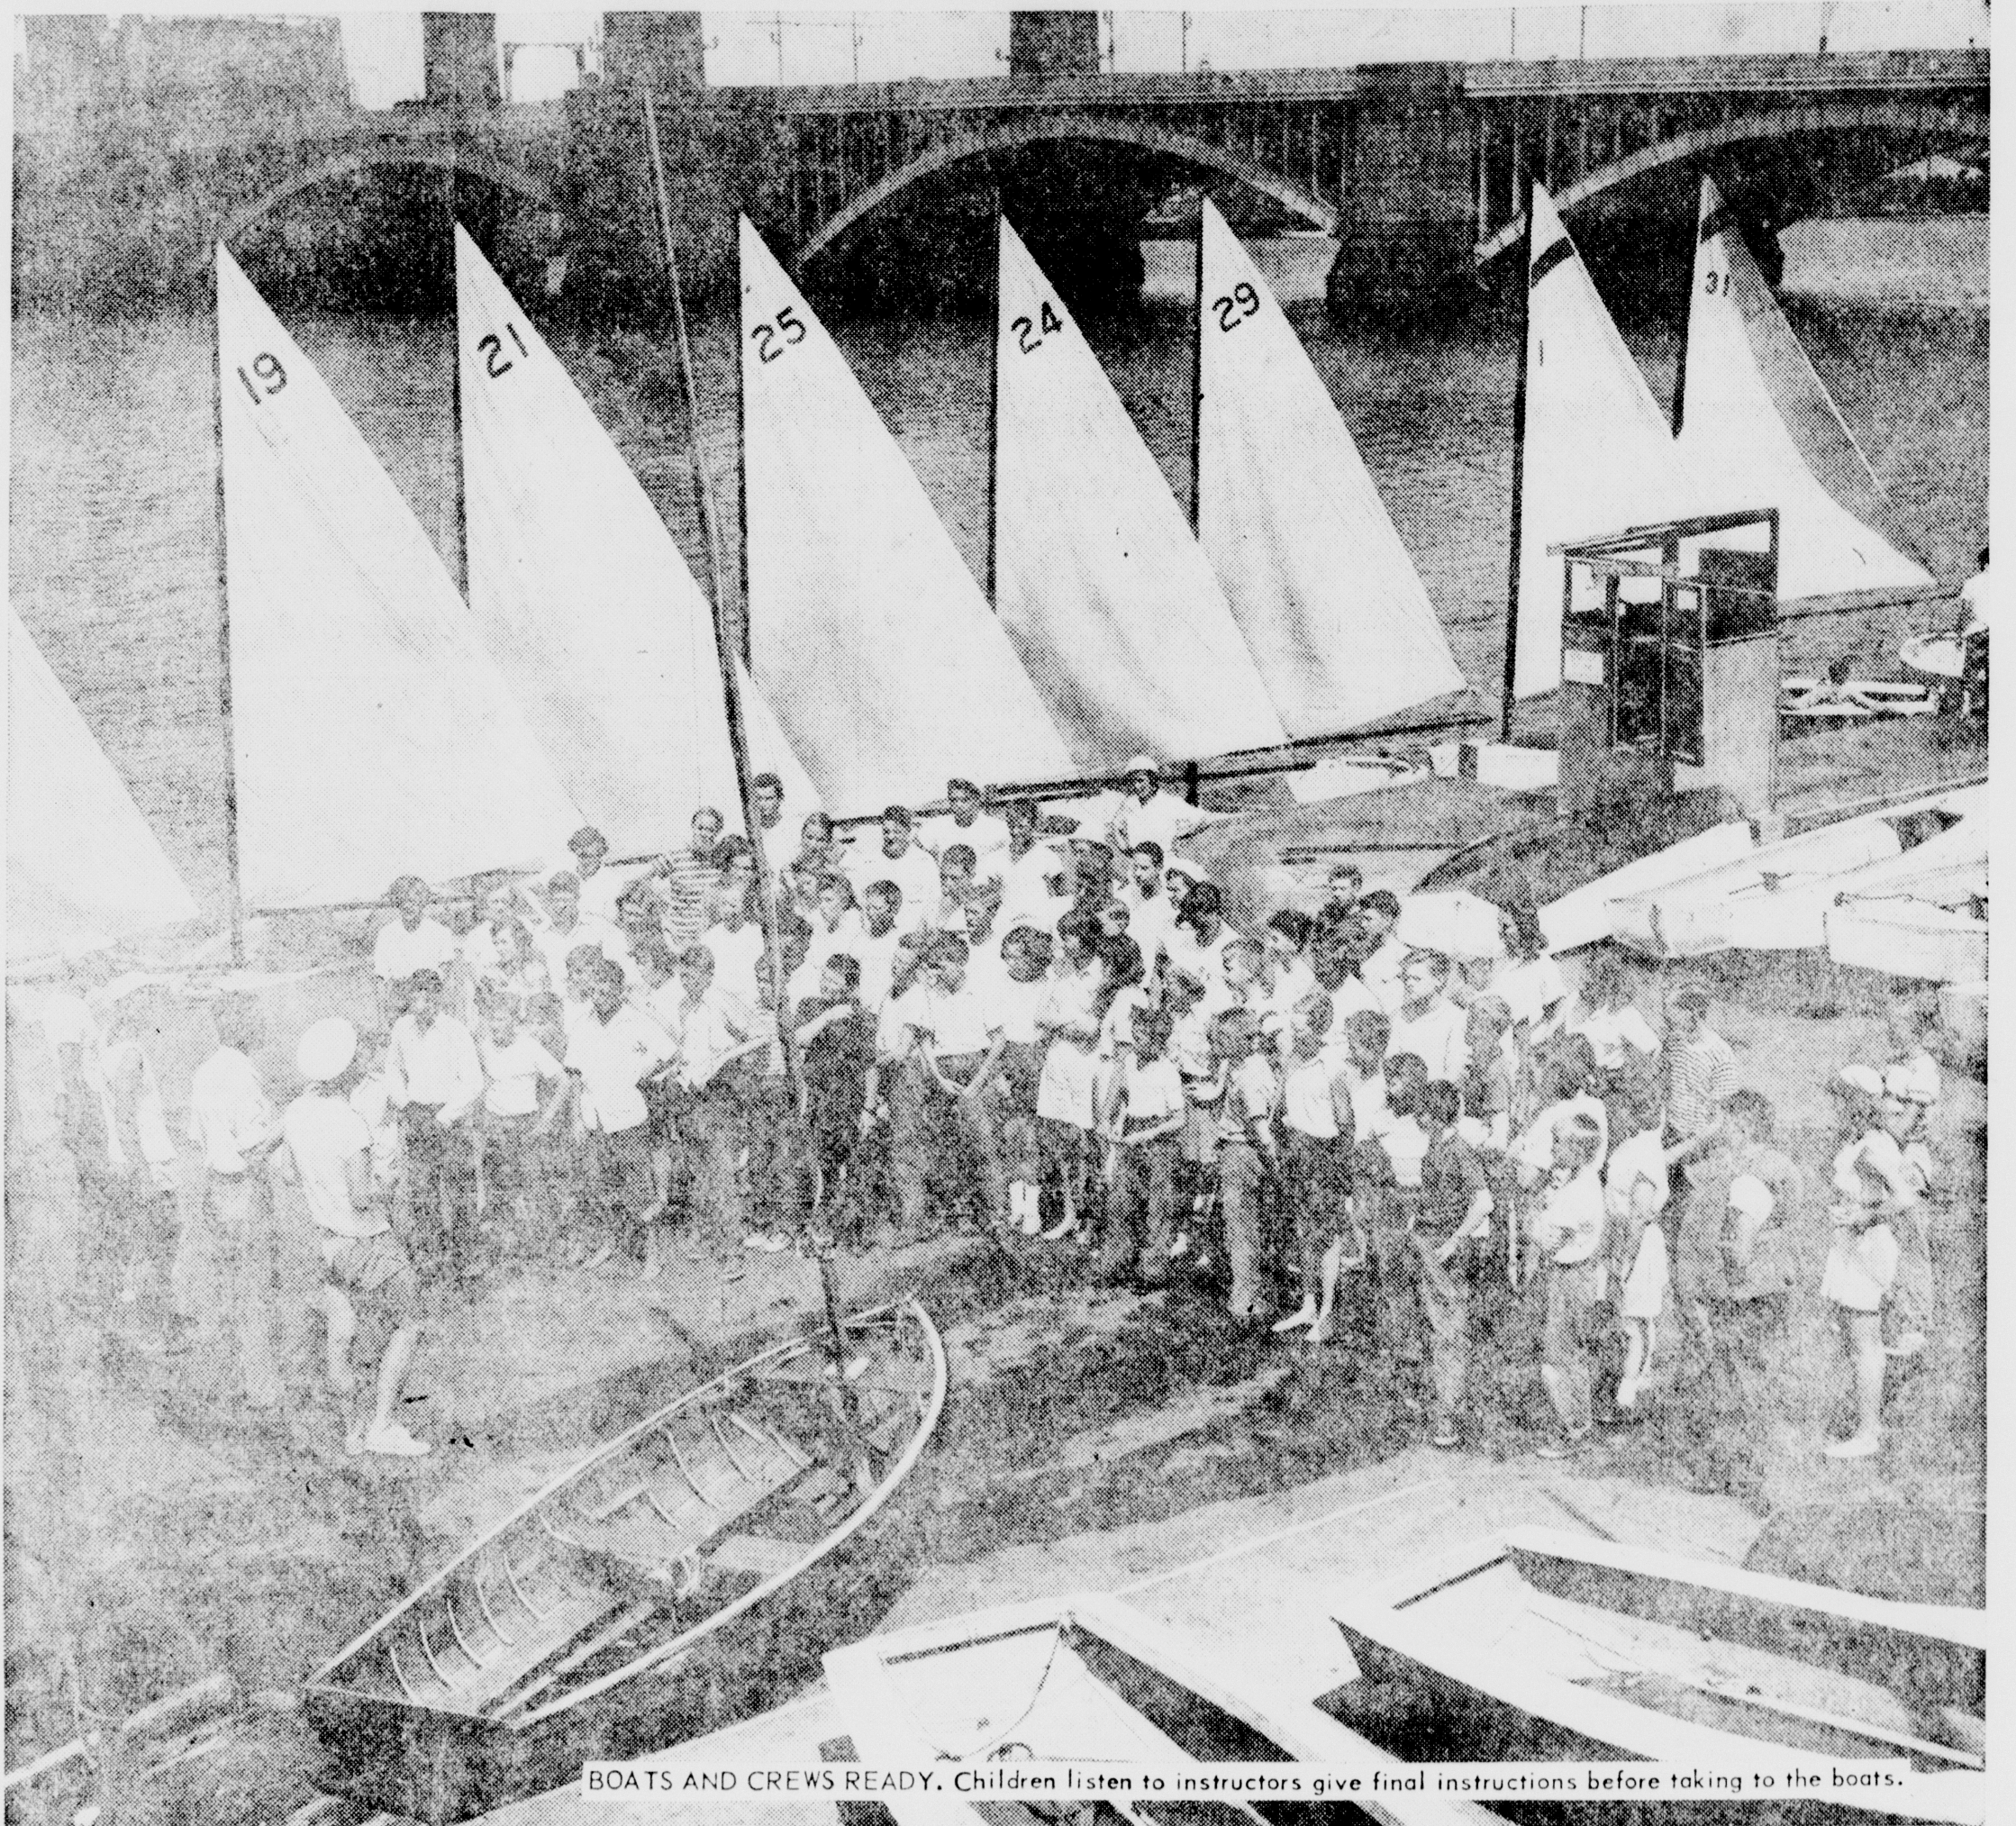

YOUNGSTERS who have broken rules must paint, patch up dinghies.

AWAY THEY GO! The young helmsmen are off for an afternoon sail.

"HEELING" the dinghy is fun, but these boys went over too far.

BOATS AND CREWS READY. Children listen to instructors give final instructions before taking to the boats.

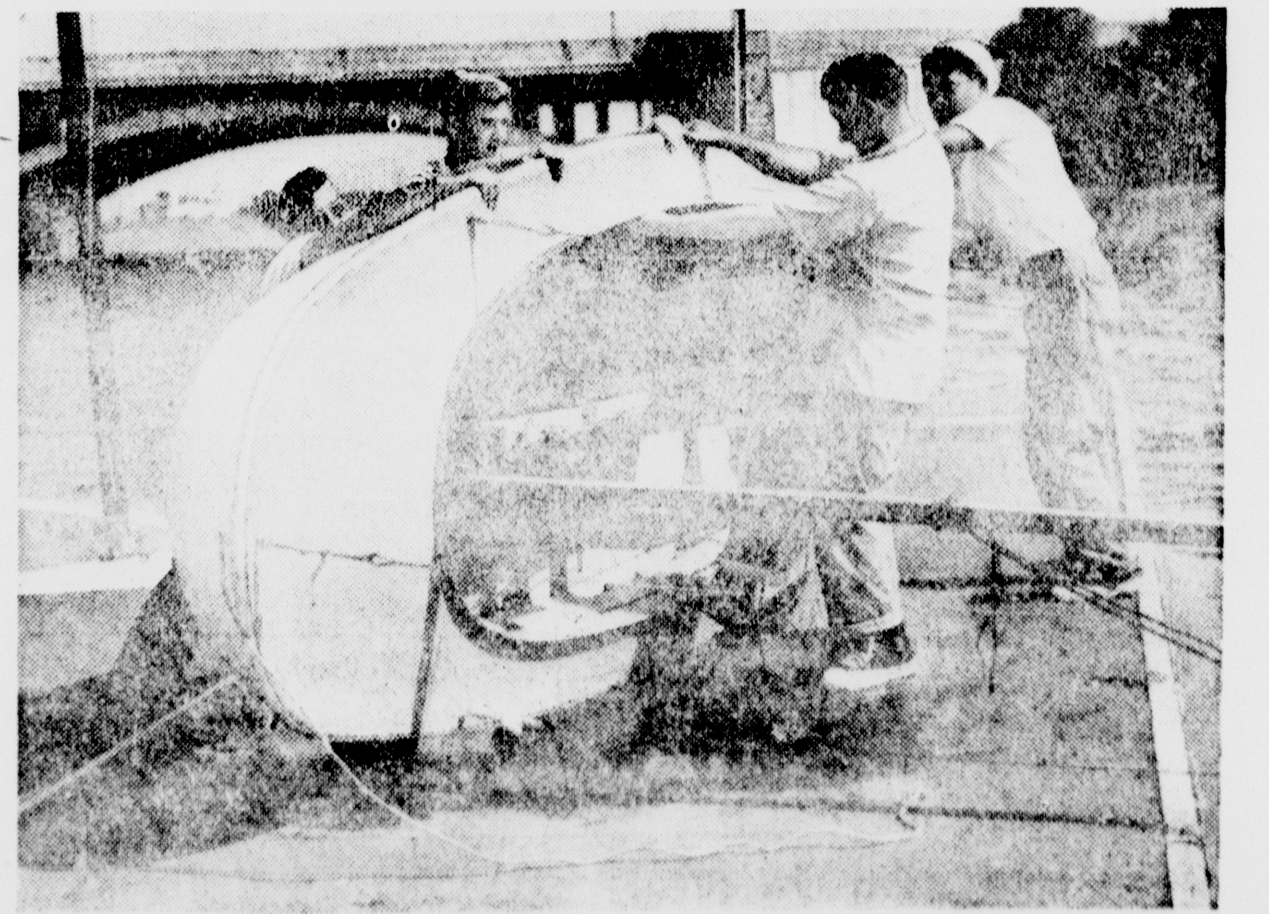

Maritime fun in the center of Boston has started along the Charles river with the fleet of the Community Sailing Association under weigh. Some 900 junior members and 500 seniors enjoy relaxation under sail every summer. The junior helmsmen, ranging in age from 12 to 17, pay a nominal 25 to 50 cents a month for the use of the craft, consisting of 41 sailing dinghies and several rowing skiffs. The seniors pay $25 for the full season (May 1 through October 31.) The city's Metropolitan District Commission has provided the necessary boathouse and equipment. These photographs show that city-bound folk do not have to go far afield for yachting joys. Most of those pictured here learned how to sail on the river under association tutelage.

AND the young trio got a good soaking in the Charles river.

POLICE boat arrives to the rescue. Hatch Brown hands wet sails to Joe Hickey.

ANOTHER crew arrives to take over. They first tip sailboat and empty it of water.

Life In Quarry Pool

Fred Lockhart, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lockhart, Gulliver, Route 1, was drowned while swimming in the pool of an abandoned quarry about eight miles northeast of Manistique Tuesday evening.

The youth lost his life while he, his brother Robert, Wallace Letson and Russell Wood, were swimming in the old Landwehr quarry north of the airport and not far from the River Road.

It was about 7:40 in the evening when the lads arrived at the quarry. Wallace Letson was first to plunge in and swim across the pool which was about 120 feet wide. Fred, who was a poor swimmer, followed but was unable to make the distance. Hearing the boy's call for help, Letson went to his rescue, but the boy's panic was such that he nearly dragged his rescuer under. Letson made for shore and Fred went down. The other boys tried to effect a rescue, and when this failed, one of them ran to their car and drove to the state police station for help.

State police and Sheriff Howard Hewitt rushed to the scene with a boat and pulmotor equipment. The approach to the quarry was inaccessible to cars so with the help of passing motorists they had to carry the boat for half a mile over mucky ground to the scene of the tragedy.

Attempts to rescue were further hampered by rubbish and dead trees that lined the bottom of the pool. The body was brought to the surface about an hour later. The pool was 12 feet deep where the body was found. Dr. E. H. Brenner was on the scene as soon as the body was recovered and with the assistance of the police officers worked frantically to save the boy's life, but their efforts were of no avail.

The body is now at the Morton Funeral Home.

Summer Resident

King Of Sweden

The Rev. Joshua L. Oden, pastor of the Irving Park Lutheran church, Chicago, has been recently knighted by King Gustave, of Sweden.

Conferred upon him was the order of Vasa, First Class.

This information is of particular interest to many people in Manistique because Rev. Oden has vacationed at Indian Lake for many years, has preached in Zion Lutheran church on numerous occasions and has many friends in the city.

He has the unusual distinction of being pastor in one church for fifty years.

Briefly Told

MAKES BETTER OYSTERS

Some oyster growers expose oysters to the air for short periods each day to induce better keeping qualities. Oysters do not eat during this period, but snap their shells shut, which results in exceptional ability to keep snapped, and thus preserve their flavor over a long period.

TURTLE - RANCHER—Ernest Hausbeck, Bay county farmer, views his "herd" of 20 turtles waiting to be bought by connoisseurs of reptilian delicacies. He catches the snappers from Saginaw river marshes and drains near his farm. Ranging from 18 to 45 pounds, the turtles are kept captive in water tanks.

Music Across The Water
Latest Band Innovation

The Manistique Municipal Band will inaugurate tomorrow evening what may be their theme for the years to come, "Music Over The Water" may become a reality if the concert planned for tomorrow night at the quarry site is anywhere near the success it is expected to be.

The concert was planned with the cooperation of the Manistique Recreation Board to determine the feasibility of using the quarry for the location of the proposed band shell. The plans for this shell are being backed by a local service club, and will be a reality if the support for the idea continues.

John Redeker
Killed In CrashYounger Brother
Seriously Injured

John Redeker, 22, was killed in a motor crash near Harrison Beach on Indian Lake early this morning, presumably about 1:30 a. m.

Redeker and his brother James, 16, were riding on a country road near the lake and, in negotiating a sharp curve, Redeker's car slid into a ditch and hit a tree. Both boys were thrown from the car by the impact.

James walked to Manistique to summon help and arrived there at 5:30 a. m. The younger brother is suffering from a head injury, possibly a skull fracture, and is being treated at Schoolcraft Memorial hospital. His condition is reported serious.

State police who investigated the accident found the body of John, the older brother, beneath his car.

The body was removed to Morton funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Miami Zoo Alligator
Saved From Wrestling
Pit With Seminoles

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—An eight foot, 225-pound alligator is back in the North Miami zoo, saved from a life of wrestling with Seminole Indians.

The big creature disappeared Saturday night. Karl Engel, chief of the North Miami police, and Indian agent Kenneth Marmon, found the alligator in the Seminole Indian reservation at Dania.

The alligator was found in a wrestling pit near the home of an Indian couple. Some Seminoles earn their living by wrestling alligators and charging tourists admission.

The Indians agreed to return the alligator when zoo superintendent Hudson Thomas said he wouldn't press any charges.

Tramway BridgeDestructive Kids
Blamed For Move

The tramway bridge, which for many years has been used by employees going to and from work at the paper mill and dimension plant, west side housewives on their shopping expeditions and children attending parochial school, is to be abandoned.

The bridge is considered unsafe and the city, which has kept it in repair, will discontinue its maintenance.

Harold Heideman, city manager, states that keeping the bridge safe for those who use it is too much of a problem. No sooner is new plank or railings put in than irresponsible youngsters tear them out again. Even warning signs, calling attention to the fact that the bridge is unsafe have been torn down almost as soon as they have been erected.

The bridge being in an out of the way location the miscreants have, like the Soviets, been able to do their work of destruction behind "an iron curtain."

The flooring on one of the spans has practically given way and when this is out of commission this popular shortcut will be but a memory.

The bridge will also be sorely missed by scores of people who enjoy fishing there.

Fish Operations
On Large Scale
Near Manistique

Many fishing boats from other fishing communities in the area are operating from the Manistique harbor at the present time. This is due to the fact that fishing is especially good in certain lake areas comparatively close to this harbor. In some instances operations are as near as twenty miles from here.

It has been several years since good fishing was as close to here.

Judge Issues Decree In Johnson Estate Case

Gottfrid S. Johnson will have to reimburse the estate left by his father, the late Nels S. Johnson, $74,205.87.

That is one of the chief provisions of a judgment decree issued in the case of Otelia J. Carlstrom et al. vs. Gottfrid Johnson by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels. The document was filed with County Clerk G. Leslie Bouschor Tuesday.

The decree, a typewritten document of 18 pages, goes into lengthy criticism of the manner in which Johnson, as administrator of his father's estate, handled its affairs. Listed among the adverse criticisms was one that he delayed settlement of the estate for a longer period than was justified; also that he used funds of the estate to enrich himself and that he wasted funds rightfully belonging to heirs of the estate.

Seven Games On Five Diamonds Tonight As District Softball Tournament Gets Underway

Lighted Field Has Three Tilts

28 Vie For Honors; Finals Sunday

Today's the big day for softball in Escanaba. At 6:30 tonight at five diamonds, 10 teams will meet in the opening round of the annual U. P. district softball tournament.

In all, seven games will be played tonight, the lighted Memorial field being the site of three games.

The opening games at 6:30 will find Manistique Fords vs. Escanaba Merchants at Memorial field, Stoughton vs. Escanaba Fruit Store at Ludington park, Ensign vs. Kiwanis club at No. 3 diamond, Maple Grove vs. St. Thomas at Royce Park and Gladstone Lions vs. Harnischfeger White Sox at Dock diamond.

The two other games at Memorial field will be Gladstone Bungalows vs. Carney at 8 o'clock and Harnischfeger Red Sox vs. Escanaba Paper Mills at 9:15.

Play will continue through the week with semi-finals Sunday afternoon and finals in all classes Sunday night.

Paul Vardigan is commissioner and Art Peterson is tournament manager.

Twenty-eight teams in three classes will compete, representing the cream of the crop in Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties.

Escanaba Paper Mills were class A winners last year. Fleetwood's Inn of Spalding won class B honors and Ensign the class C trophy.

Because only four teams are entered in Class A, the double elimination play will be used, each team losing two games before being eliminated. In the other classes, however, one defeat will knock a team out.

Tigers Flounder In Great Style

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers still held a three-game lead in the American league pennant race today but they looked like a cellar club for a time last night as they gave the feeble Chicago White Sox a 9-6 decision.

The Tiger pitching went sour, the defense collapsed in the clutches, and the base running was poor.

And Hank Borowy, making his debut as a relief pitcher for Detroit, was a flop. Manager Red Rolfe acquired the veteran right-hander from the Pittsburgh Pirates last week.

Rolfe had hoped to pad the Tigers' pennant lead at the start of their western trip, but the White Sox spoiled everything by putting on a rally that overcame a 5-0 deficit.

The White Sox tied up the game 6-6 in the seventh. In the eighth, Eddie Robinson's No. 12 homer started a three-run rally that gave Chicago the series opener.

Good Start, Poor End

Detroit got off to a good start in the first inning. Bill Wright, the Chicago starting pitcher, walked three men in the opening round.

Hits by Johnny Lipon, George Kell and Don Kolloway and an error by Chicago shortstop Chico Carrasquel accounted for four runs.

The Tigers added another run in the third on Kolloway's second hit, another error by Carrasquel and a scratch hit by Lipon. Hal White, making his first start since he shut out the Yankees on a two-hitter last week, breezed along until the sixth. Then everything happened to him. White lost control completely and the White Sox scored four runs off him and reliever Borowy.

Borowy gave up three bases on balls, allowed five hits and cut loose with a heave that was scored as a passed ball but nevertheless permitted a White Sox base runner to come in from second.

Detroit got another run in the seventh on a walk to Kell and a double by Vic Wertz. But the White Sox came back in their half of the inning to tie the score at the expense of Borowy and Paul Calvert.

In the eighth Robinson homered and Calvert walked Marv Rickert. Guzman cracked out a triple that sent Calvert to the showers. Marlin Stuart replaced Calvert and allowed Luis Aloma a single that drove in the final White Sox run.

Calvert was charged with the loss, Aloma, the fourth Chicago pitcher, was credited with the victory.

For the second game of the series this afternoon, Freddie Hutchinson was Detroit's pitching choice. Ray Scarborough will be on the mound for Chicago.

Both Mangrum and Locke had final-round 67's, but Mangrum did his spurling with a first-nine 31, also five under par.

The finish was a bitter disappointment to Ed Furgol, the crippled-armed star from Royal Oak, Mich., who was the 54-hole leader with a five-under-par 211. Furgol ballooned to a 75 over the last 18 for a 286 and a four-way tie for sixth place.

Red Wings Plan 10 Game Exhibition; Play At Soo

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Red Wings today announced an abbreviated 10-game schedule of exhibition games as a tuneup for their National hockey league campaign.

It will be highlighted by an Oct. 8 game at Olympia between the Wings, defending league and

Stanley cup champions, and an all-star team picked from the other five teams in the league.

Red Wing officials said they would play fewer exhibition games this year because they were convinced that the number played in past years was too great.

The Detroiters will play only four games during their two-and-a-half weeks stay at Sault Ste. Marie training headquarters. The remaining six will be played in the three weeks between their return to Detroit and the opening of the NHL schedule.

The full exhibition schedule: Wednesday, Sept. 13—Detroit vs. Indianapolis at Sault Ste. Marie. Same on Sunday, Sept. 17; Wednesday, Sept. 20 and Sunday, Sept. 24.

Thursday, Sept. 28—Detroit vs. Indianapolis at Windsor, Ont. Saturday, Sept. 30—Detroit at St. Louis.

Sunday, Oct. 1—Detroit vs. Indianapolis at Detroit.

Thursday, Oct. 5—Detroit vs. Cleveland at Grand Rapids. Friday, Oct. 6—Detroit vs. Indianapolis at Chatham, Ont. Sunday, Oct. 8—All Star game in Detroit.

Sugar Ray Fights Fusari Tonight For Cancer Fund

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—There were some hearty laughs among the fight set when Sugar Ray Robinson announced he would fight Charlie Fusari for charity.

Even a week ago the diehards still were looking for the Harlem Flash to come down with one of the obscure ailments which have plagued his career and grayed the hair of promoters.

Here it is the day originally set, and unless Sugar Ray stumbles over the scales and pulls a tendon he will defend his welterweight title against Fusari tonight — for charity.

Sugar is taking only a single buck, with the remainder of his 30 per cent of the purse going to the Damon Runyan cancer fund. It is a gesture to square a lot of raps.

Not Always Thus

In view of all this, the men who chronicle boxing have reversed their field in recent days and written glowing articles about the champion—his stoical effort to melt off the pounds, his scholarly advice to aspiring young visitors to his training camp, his serene attitude toward the job at hand.

This is not at all what they customarily have written about Sugar. About the best they have said for him in the past was that he was the greatest fighter in the world, pound for pound.

As far as Robinson outside the ring, the implication has been that you could have him. He has never made much effort to win popularity. He has managed his own affairs, driven tough deals with promoters and never hesitated to walk out on a match which he did not wish to fight.

Not So Dumb

If you don't watch out for yourself, Sugar said, nobody else will. This attitude has gained Robinson no friends in the fight business.

Robinson has never bothered about being a good fellow. Often, it is suspected, he has employed just as much of his brilliant ability as was necessary to win a decision. Why risk his valuable hands in an effort to score a knockout? Ray has plenty of money, owns a cluster of paying shops up in Harlem and can afford to fight this one for charity.

Maybe he doesn't call himself Sugar for nothing, and maybe he isn't so dumb.

Big Ten Plans TV Experiment

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Western conference has approved an experimental program to televise on theater screens some Big Ten football games this fall.

Kenneth L. Wilson, commissioner of athletics for the conference, announced that some games will be available to simultaneous large screen television. Post-game films will be shown by regular television broadcast.

Wilson said Northwestern, Illinois and Michigan had agreed to try the innovation this season. He said the new plan is aimed at controlling the size of the audience and the selection of the location for showing. Because the program is experimental, he said, its scope will be limited this coming season.

Tests are planned for Chicago and Detroit. In Chicago, games at Illinois and Northwestern will be televised in three theaters. In Detroit, Michigan games will be shown at one theater. The four theaters average slightly less than 4,000 seats.

Wilson said attempts are being made to include Minnesota and Ohio State in the program.

Paper Mills Shut Out Larmays, 9-0

Escanaba Paper Mills, tuning up for the district softball tournament, shut out Larmays last night, 9-0, behind six hit pitching of Tom Elgeert. Tom Brayak gave up 11 hits for Larmays.

Ding DeGrande, Paper Mill first baseman, got two for three.

John Baker pitched Clairmont Transfers to a 3-2 victory over the Harnischfeger White Sox in a replay of a protested game.

All Stars Pick Two Captains

Tonnemaker, Walker To Lead Mates

CHICAGO — (AP) — Do a Walker, three-time All-America halfback from Southern Methodist, and Clayton Tonnemaker, 235-pound center from Minnesota, will lead the college all-stars against the Philadelphia Eagles Friday night.

Walker and Tonnemaker were elected co-captains yesterday. Walker will lead the team on offense, Tonnemaker on defense.

A crowd estimated at 90,000 is expected to see the 17th annual classic. The Eagles, champions of the National football league, are two-touchdown favorites.

Walker, now a Detroit Lion, was one of the nation's greatest post-war halfbacks. At the college's training camp at Delaford, Wis., Tonnemaker has been one of the outstanding performers. All-star coaches believe he is the most powerful bone-crushing lineman in football today.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Iason

Three Escanaba football players are practicing with the South team at Negaunee in preparation for the all star game there Saturday night. They are Axel Anderson, Tom Nault and Buddy Weber.

Gladstone is represented by Jim Schram and Bill Beveridge. Manistique has Bob Carlson. Maurice Larson from Stephenson also is on the squad.

Escanaba still is being considered as a possible entrant in the U. P. amateur football league. We understand Ray Ebli, former Ironwood and Notre Dame griddle now living in Escanaba, has been invited to form a team here. A meeting will be held in Menominee tonight.

It's all in the way you look at it. A guy stole home at the municipal ball park in Vineland, N. J., but he wasn't a hero. He literally swiped the home plate out of the ground. The plate was valued at $18.

Local golfers who frequently blow easy putts now can take heart. In the Tam O'Shanter meet the other day none other than Jimmy Demaret, one of the nation's top pros, five-putted from 18 feet.
